

Asia Pacific Cultural Center

Website Redesign Project 1

DSGN 372

Lilly Lewis

Background & Research

Process

Problem

Mission & Values

Community

Cultures

Our mission is to bridge communities and generations through art, culture, education, and business.

Asia Pacific Cultural Center will transform our community to become a dynamic, inclusive hub for diverse communities, cultures, and generations.

NonProfit Overview

Awareness

Inclusivity

Asia Pacific Cultural Center (APCC) is a center for cultural exchange providing programs and services that promote the greater awareness, understanding, equity, and inclusion of the Asian and Pacific Islander people.

This community includes immigrants, refugees, children and youth, seniors and elders, low-income, and all groups who are a part of the Asia Pacific community. Our founders recognized the need for cross-cultural understanding in their community, and in 1996 they founded APCC to address this need.

Brand Questionnaire

Awareness

Inclusivity

What top 2 business goals do you want to achieve with the website? (immediate needs)

- Increase user engagement by introducing an easy-to-use navigation system
- Promote annual events by establishing a site hierarchy

What top 2 future business goals do you want to achieve with your new website? (long-term)

- Establish a new and improved branding system to help the cultural center gain recognition
- Make a more effective donate system so it's more easily recognized and identified

What do you think your customers first want to see when they visit the website?

They want to see an established brand with photos of their events and an easy way to access their event sign-ups

Brand Questionnaire

Awareness

Inclusivity

Who are the different user groups that would be using this site? And for what reasons?

There are probably a couple of different user groups using this site. Most people using this site would be people who identify with the Asian groups presented within this community (Thai, Korean, Japanese, Samoan, Laos, Cambodian, and many more). But also people who are outside of these groups that might want to learn more about their cultural practices and traditions might visit the site to see what events are happening in their area. I could see parents bringing their children to different events connected to their culture and using this website as a tool to find events near them

List any requirements or must-haves for the website.

- Navigation bar with all the necessary tabs
- Events page or window
- About Them page featuring their vision statement and contact page
- Donate button
- Calendar with times for events
- Volunteer information
- Member sign-up information

Problem

Community

Cultures

Non-Profits rely heavily on donations and community engagement to be successful. Non-profits have to have clear navigation on their websites to be able to get the best chance at donations. APCC has a confusing website that doesn't easily provide important dates and events, which could lead to a lack in engagement for users

Offering

Strenths

Weaknesses

Strengths:

they have all the information needed on the front page so users won't get confused about the navigation

Weaknesses:

Everything is really messy in terms of organization and there's no consistent color palette or typeface
The dropdown menus are presented in half opacity which makes them really hard to read

What do they bring the community?

You can join as a member and join their community and donate and volunteer opportunities are displayed on their homepage

Competition

Strengths

Weaknesses

Asian Society in Seattle

This site focuses on education about Asian cultures and provides adequate information on different events and retreats to learn more about specific Asian cultures. They have their own events and “Summits” to teach people about Asian cultures and practices.

Japanese cultural and community center of Washington

This site is specifically focused on the Japanese population of Washington, focusing on Japanese events and cultural festivals.

They offer a wide selection of events like writing classes and festivals like Kodomo no Hi (children’s day).

Competitor Analysis

	APCC	Asian Society of Seattle	Japanese Cultural Center
Wide selection of communities	☒	☒	☐
Open to everyone	☒	☒	☒
Affordable Events	☒	☐	☒
Prioritizes community connections	☒	☐	☒

Internal Strengths

The documentation of events is nice

It's relatively easy to find on google

There are a lot of resources to explore

Finding community is easy

Weaknesses

Make organization better

The donate button isn't very noticable

putting too many tabs on the website that nobody is using competitors have a cleaner and easier to navigate website

Opportunities

The documentation of events is nice

It's relatively easy to find on google

There are a lot of resources to explore

Finding community is easy

Threats

Make organization better

The donate button isn't very noticable

putting too many tabs on the website that nobody is using

competitors have a cleaner and easier to navigate website

SWOT Analysis

Audience

Strenths

Weaknesses

Primary Audience

Mainly Asian identifying individuals with a curiosity about their culture or want to pursue a community based around their specific culture

Secondary audience

individuals who don't identify with specific cultures but want to learn more about them and go to events to learn more about cultural traditions and festivals

User Personas

Carol Liu

AGE: 45

OCCUPATION: Homemaker

LOCATION: Tacoma, WA

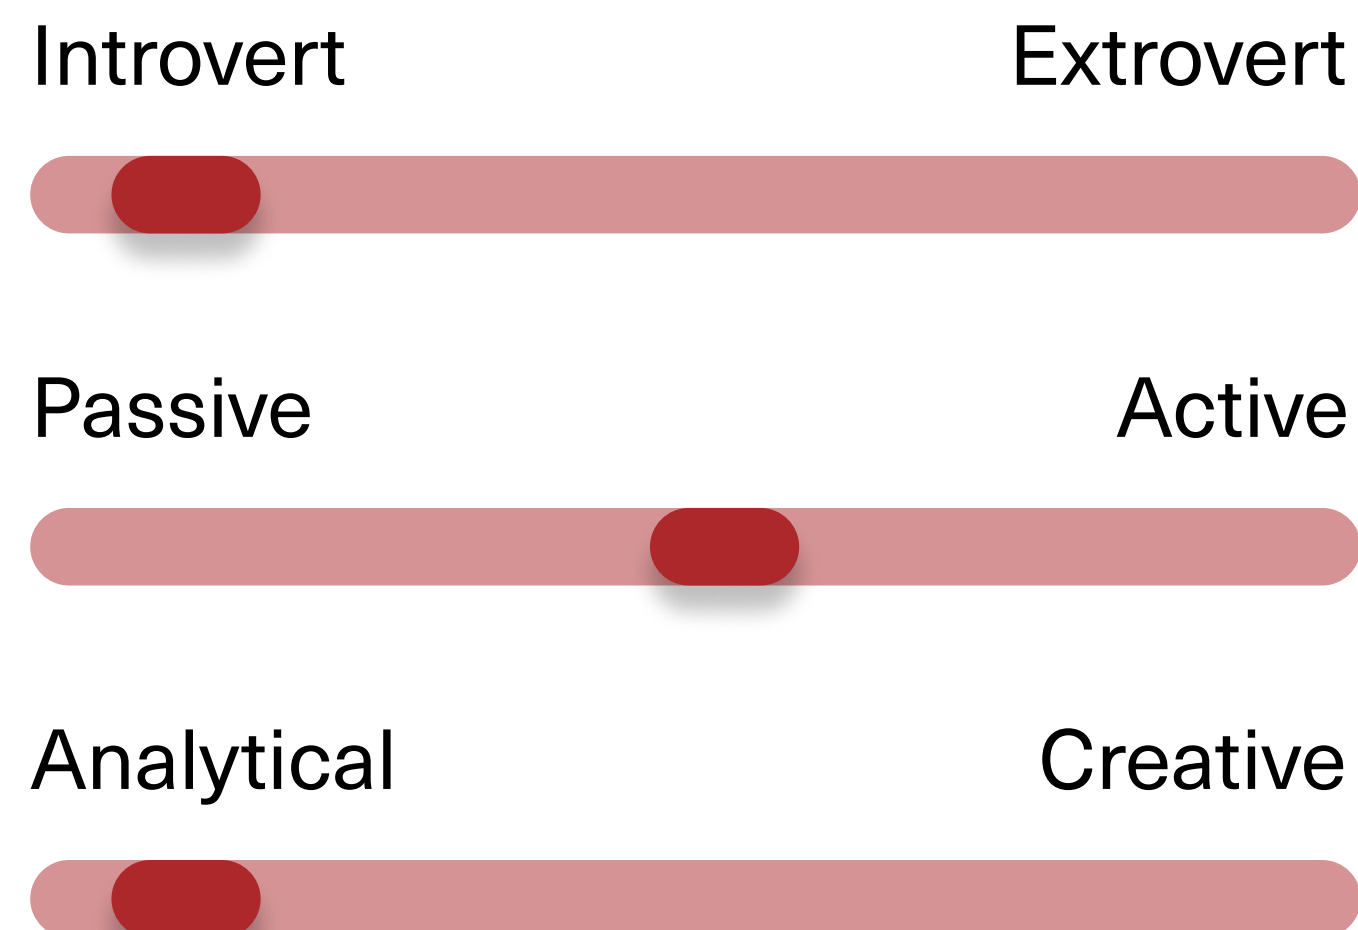

EDUCATION: PhD in Chemistry

“I want my kids to be able to experience my culture”

Attributes

Carol is a 45 year old stay at home mom with a PhD in chemistry from California Polytechnic University. She's a first generation immigrant from Seoul South Korea.

Personality

Skills

- Takes care of 3 kids
- Active in the school PTSA
- Previously employed as a lab tech
- Publishes a personal blog

Goals

- wants to find a community for her family to express their heritage
- wants to meet other families within her culture to connect with them

Frustrations

- has a hard time finding a Korean community in Tacoma
- Is worried that her children are not learning about cultural traditions she used to practice back in Korea
- Doesn't have that much free time to look for events for her family to attend regarding Korean culture

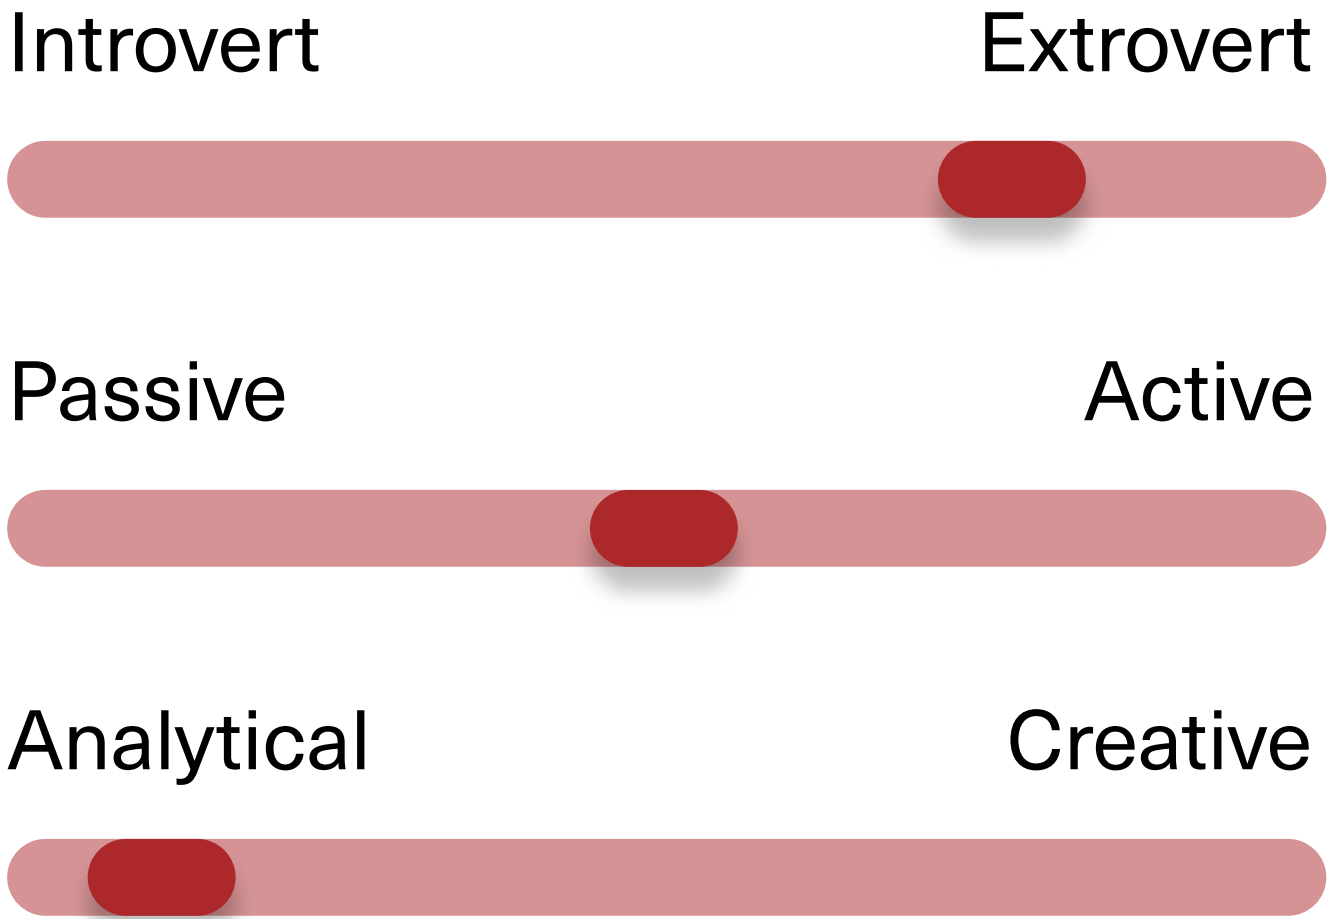

Matthew Chen

AGE: 18
OCCUPATION: Student at UW
LOCATION: Seattle, WA
EDUCATION: High School Diploma

“I feel disconnected from my Chinese heritage”

Attributes
Matt is a half Chinese undergraduate at the University of Washington.

Personality

- Skills
- Tech Savvy
 - loves talking to people
 - interested in robotics and mathematics
- Goals
- Wants to be able to connect with his asian heritage because he feels disconnected especially being a mixed person.
- Frustrations
- Doesn't have much free time to go to events outside of his city
 - Is a college student so he doesn't have any money to spend on non-profits
 - doesn't like being undermined for being a mixed person

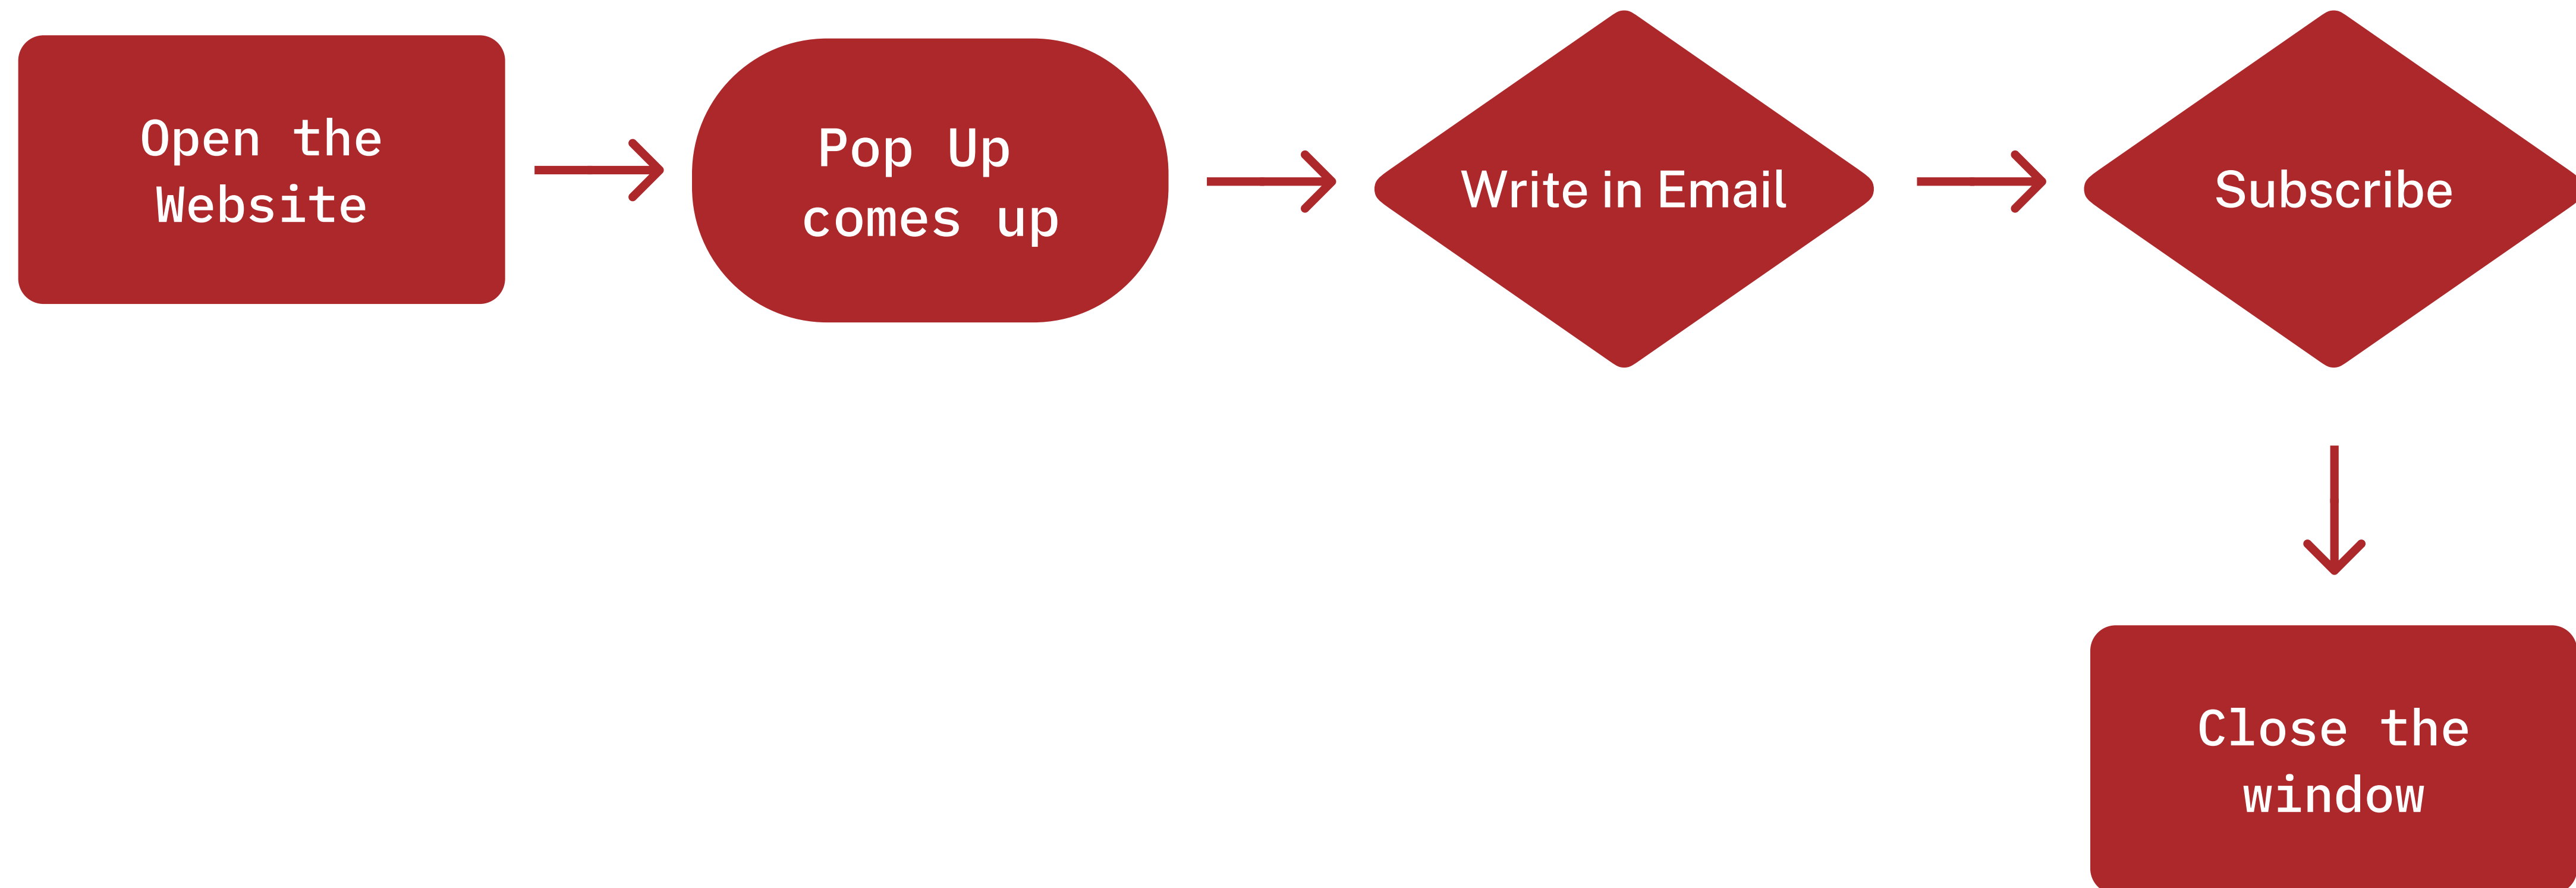

User Task Flow

Task 1

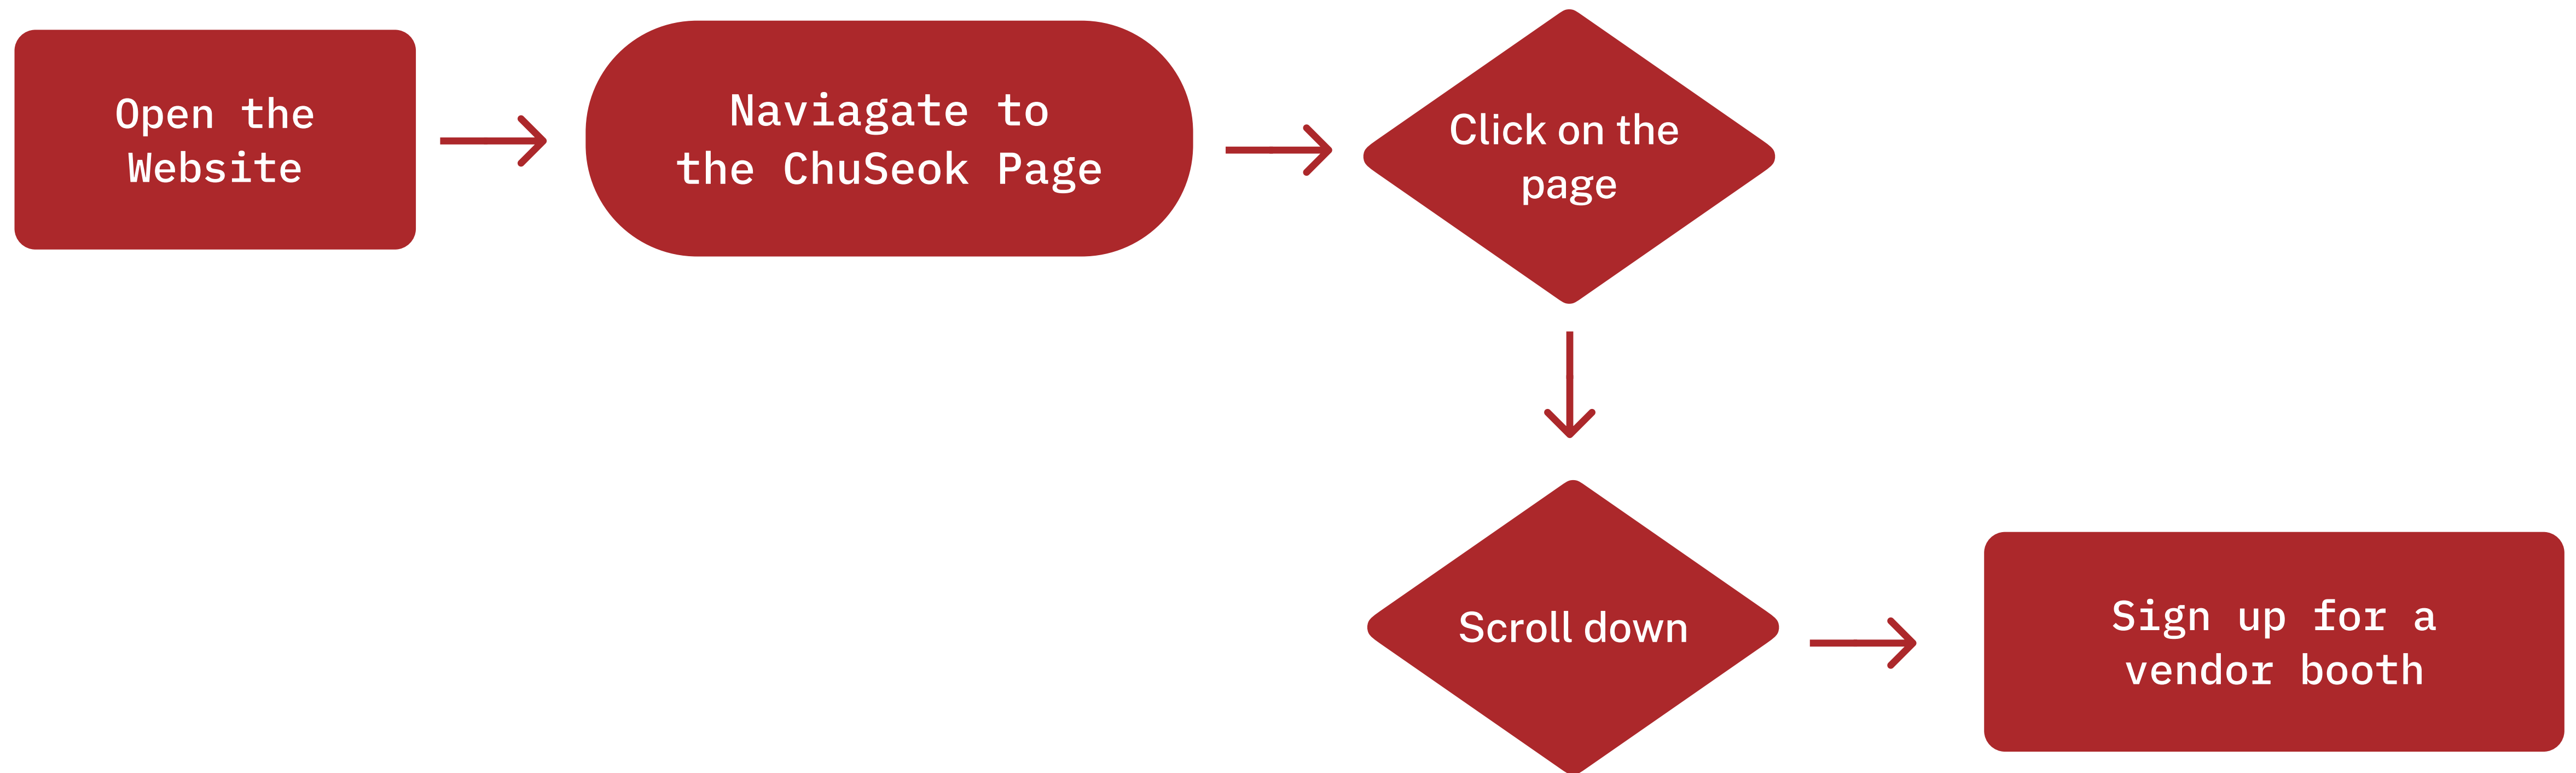

Matthew wants to sign up for emails so he can write them in his calendar and attend some events

Task 2

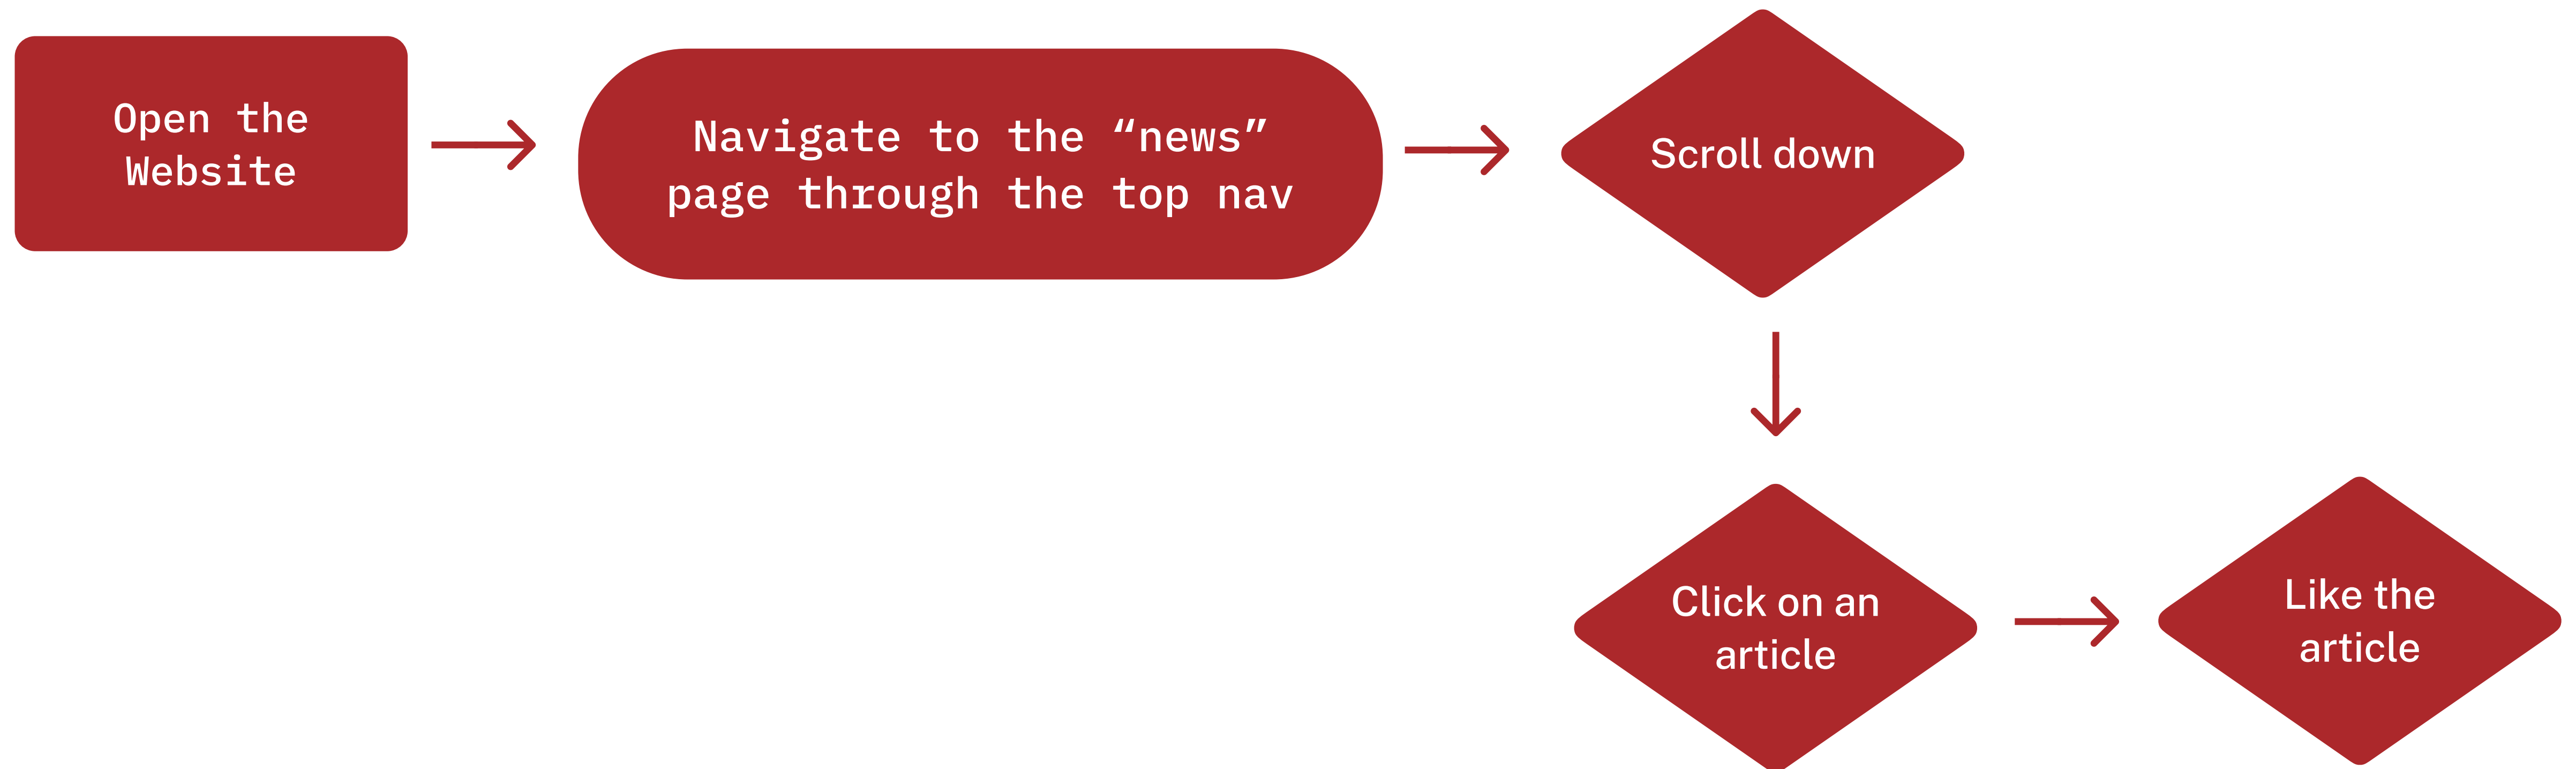

Carol is interested in the Korean ChuSeok Festival and wants to be able to have a booth to teach some related arts and craft.

Task 2

Carol wants to view some news articles to learn more about what's going on in the APCC community

Positioning

Voice

competition

Asian Pacific cultural Center presents itself casually while still maintaining a semi-professional exterior. Obviously they take themselves seriously with the information they present but they don't take themselves too seriously.

In contrast to somewhere like the Asian society of Seattle which prides themselves on being started by J.D Rockefeller and is 100% committed to providing summits and seminars for learning about asian cultures

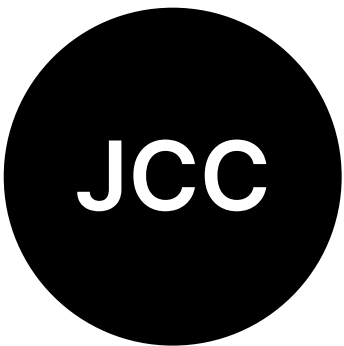

Perceptual Map

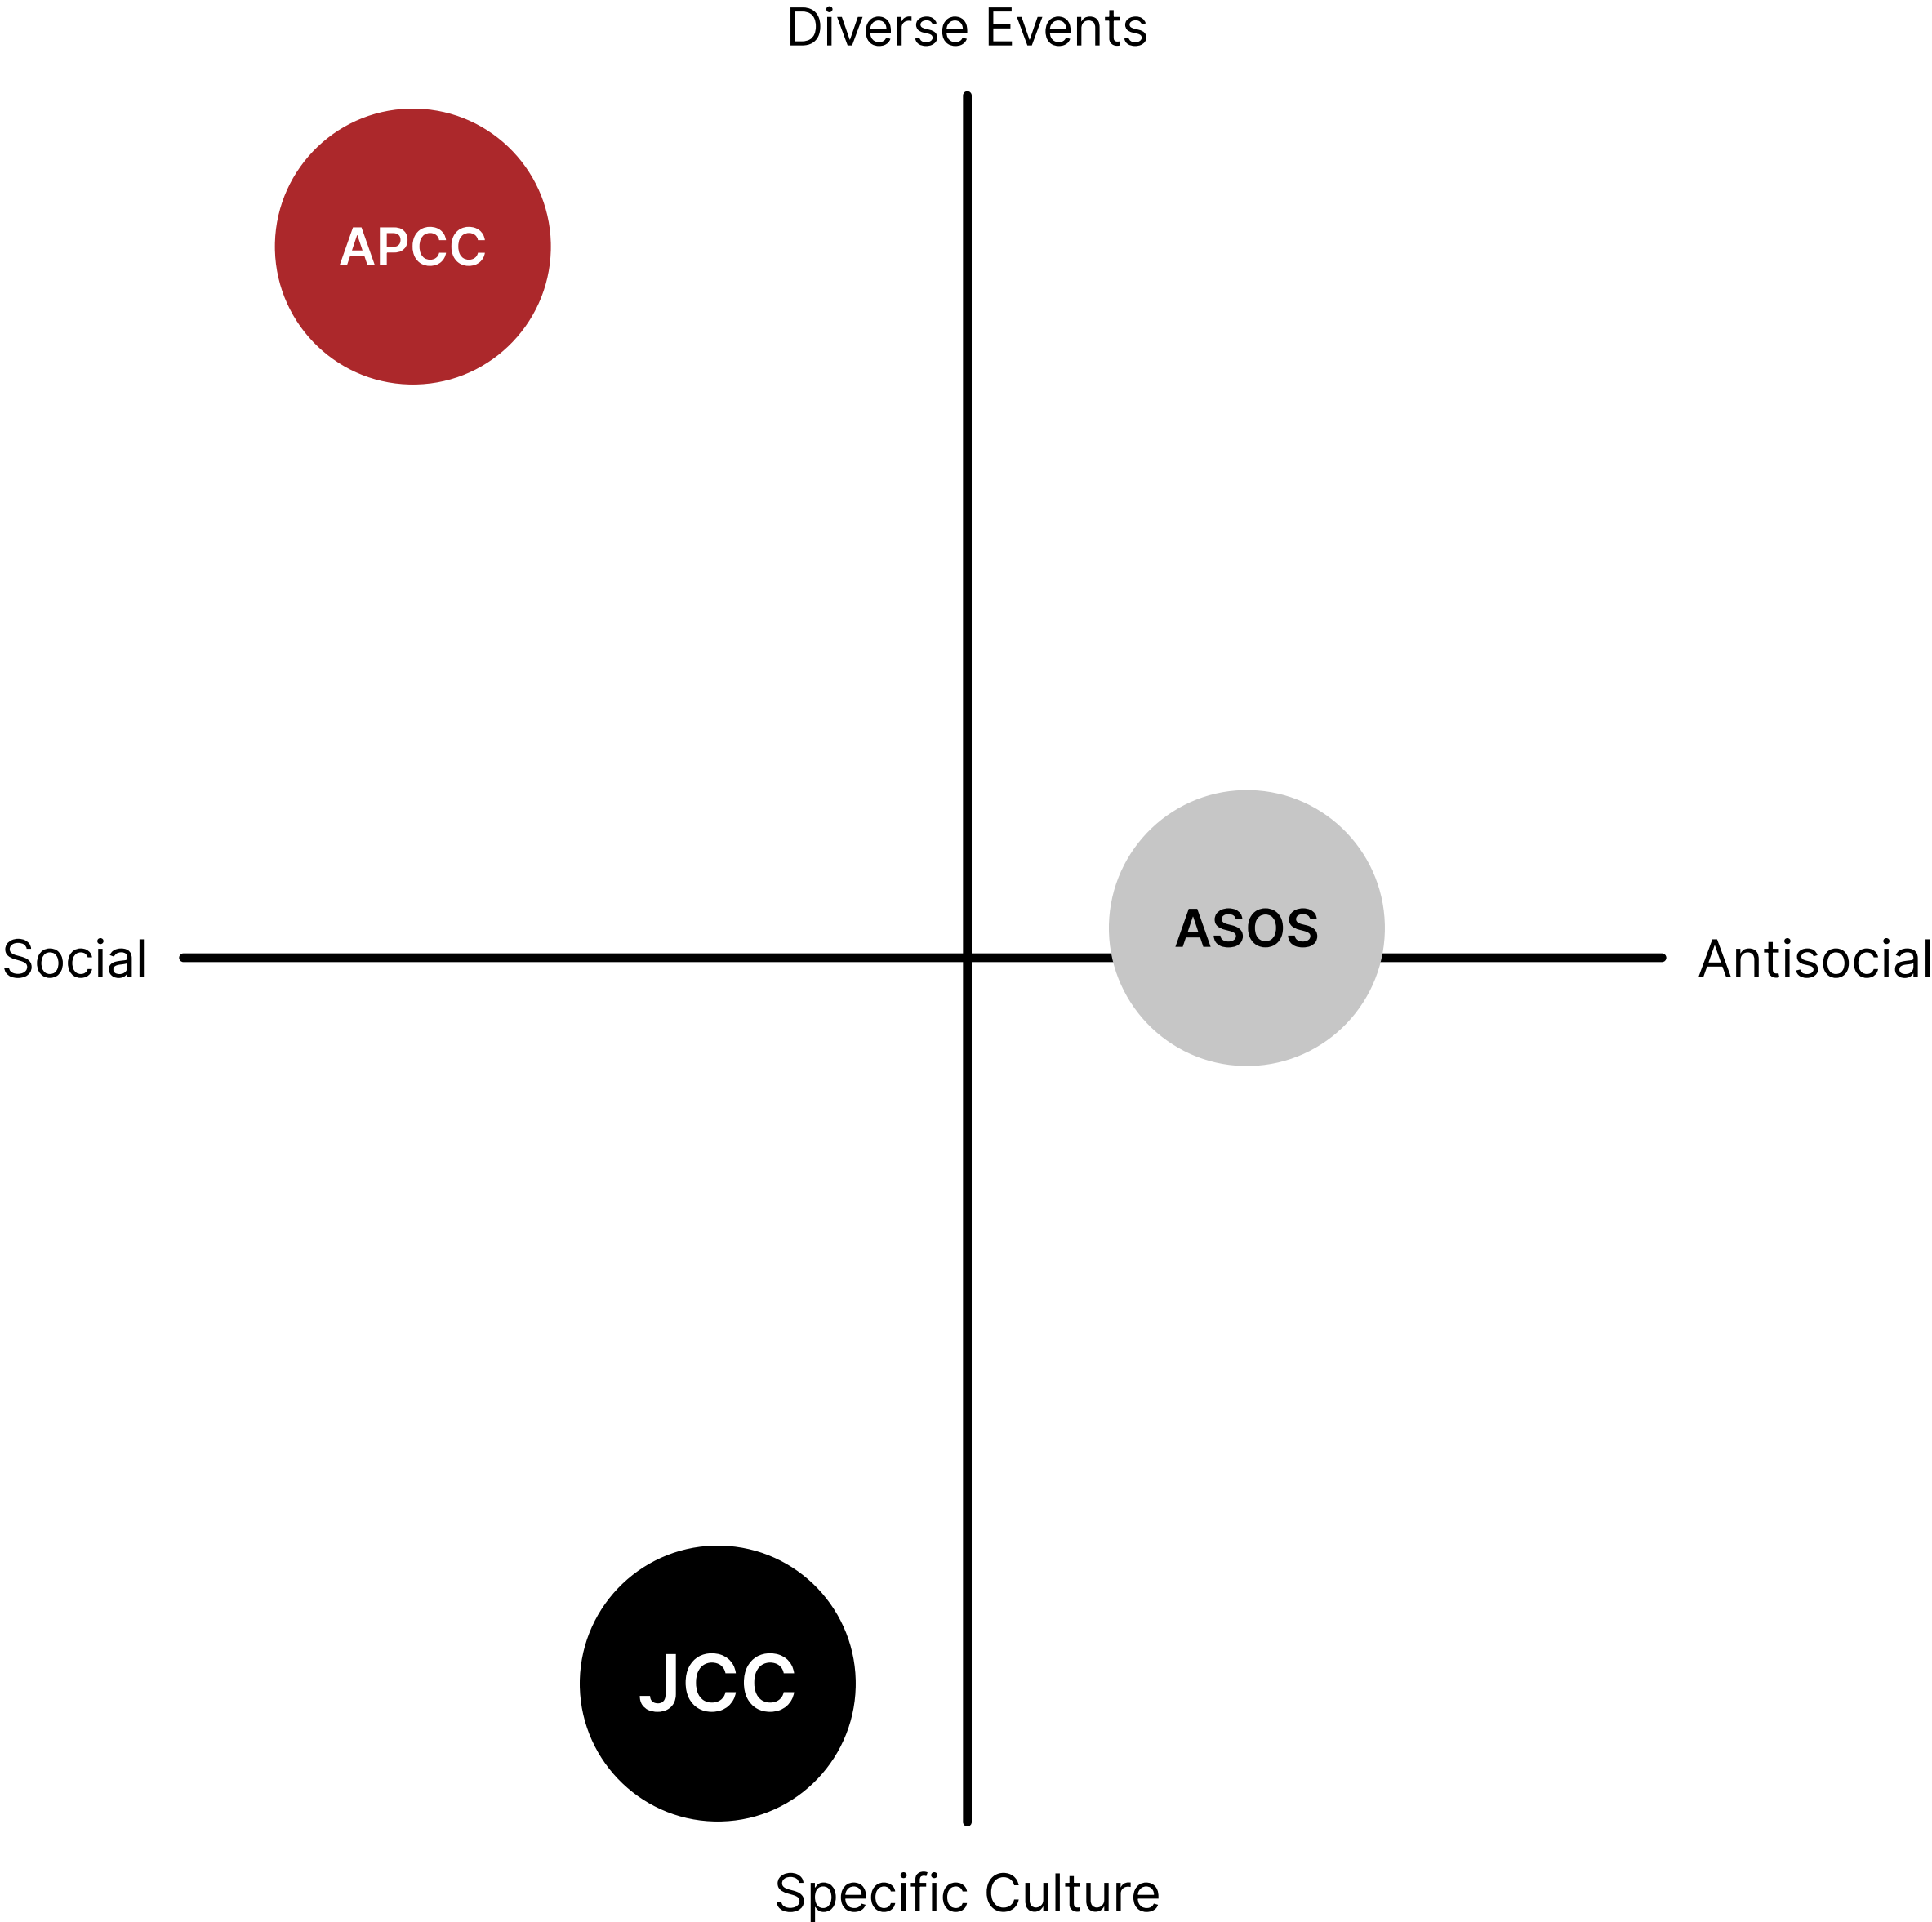

Asia Pacific
Cultural Center

Asian Society of Seattle

Japanese
Cultural Center

Messaging

Clarification

Opportunities

Their messaging is mostly educational with them focusing on education around dual citizenship and information about cultural events that are not usually represented by the public.

Their instagram page and their website both focus on information and educational content with a specific focus on educating people about asian communities and connecting likeminded people together with the intention of learning about asian cultures and traditions.

Communication

Positives

Negatives

Channels

Email Newsletter

Fliers

Instagram posts and promotional web fliers

Website

Facebook Profile

Youtube channel

Negatives

there are a lot of different flyers that go out with information, but they only show up on their specific instagram or facebook they don't have that much outreach

Positives

there are a lot of different channels for them to put the same information to maybe gain a bit more of an audience

Goals

Positives

Negatives

User Goals:

to find cultural events in the Tacoma area learn more about Asian culture find a community of people that share the same culture

Brand Goals

to provide educational resources regarding Asian cultures and traditions to provide ways to give users a sense of community to host events regarding cultural or religious holidays

Business Goals

to ensure financial sustainability to be able to keep serving the brands mission increase fundraising to be able to host more events and provide more resources recruit more volunteers to help events run more smoothly

Process

Sketches

Compositions

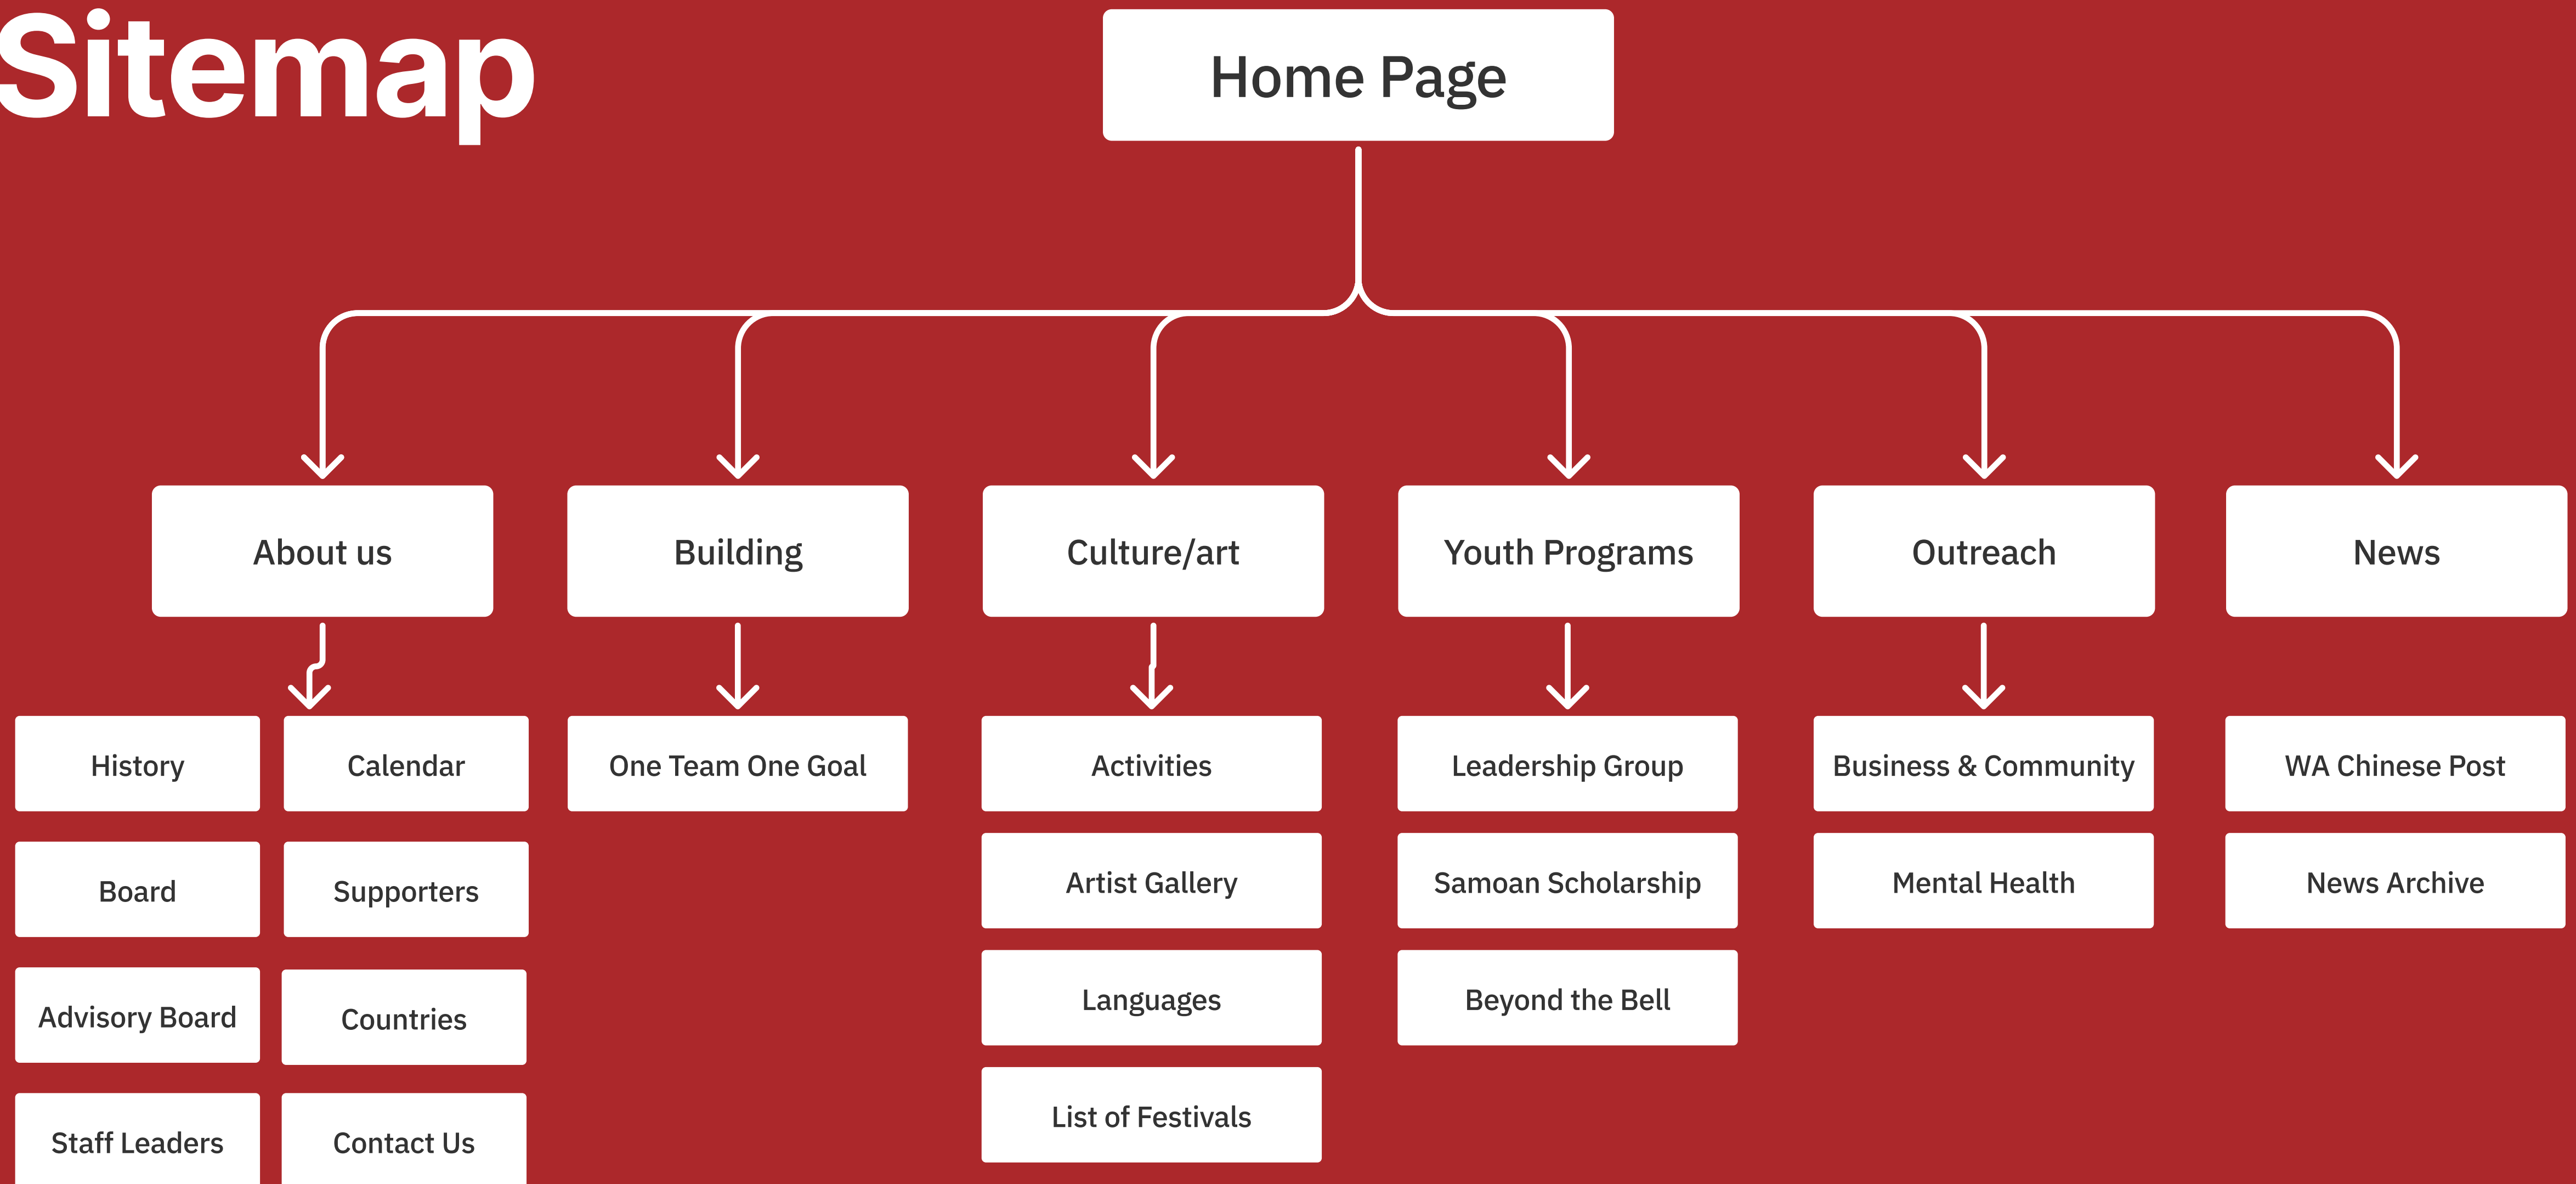

Strategy Statement

Positives

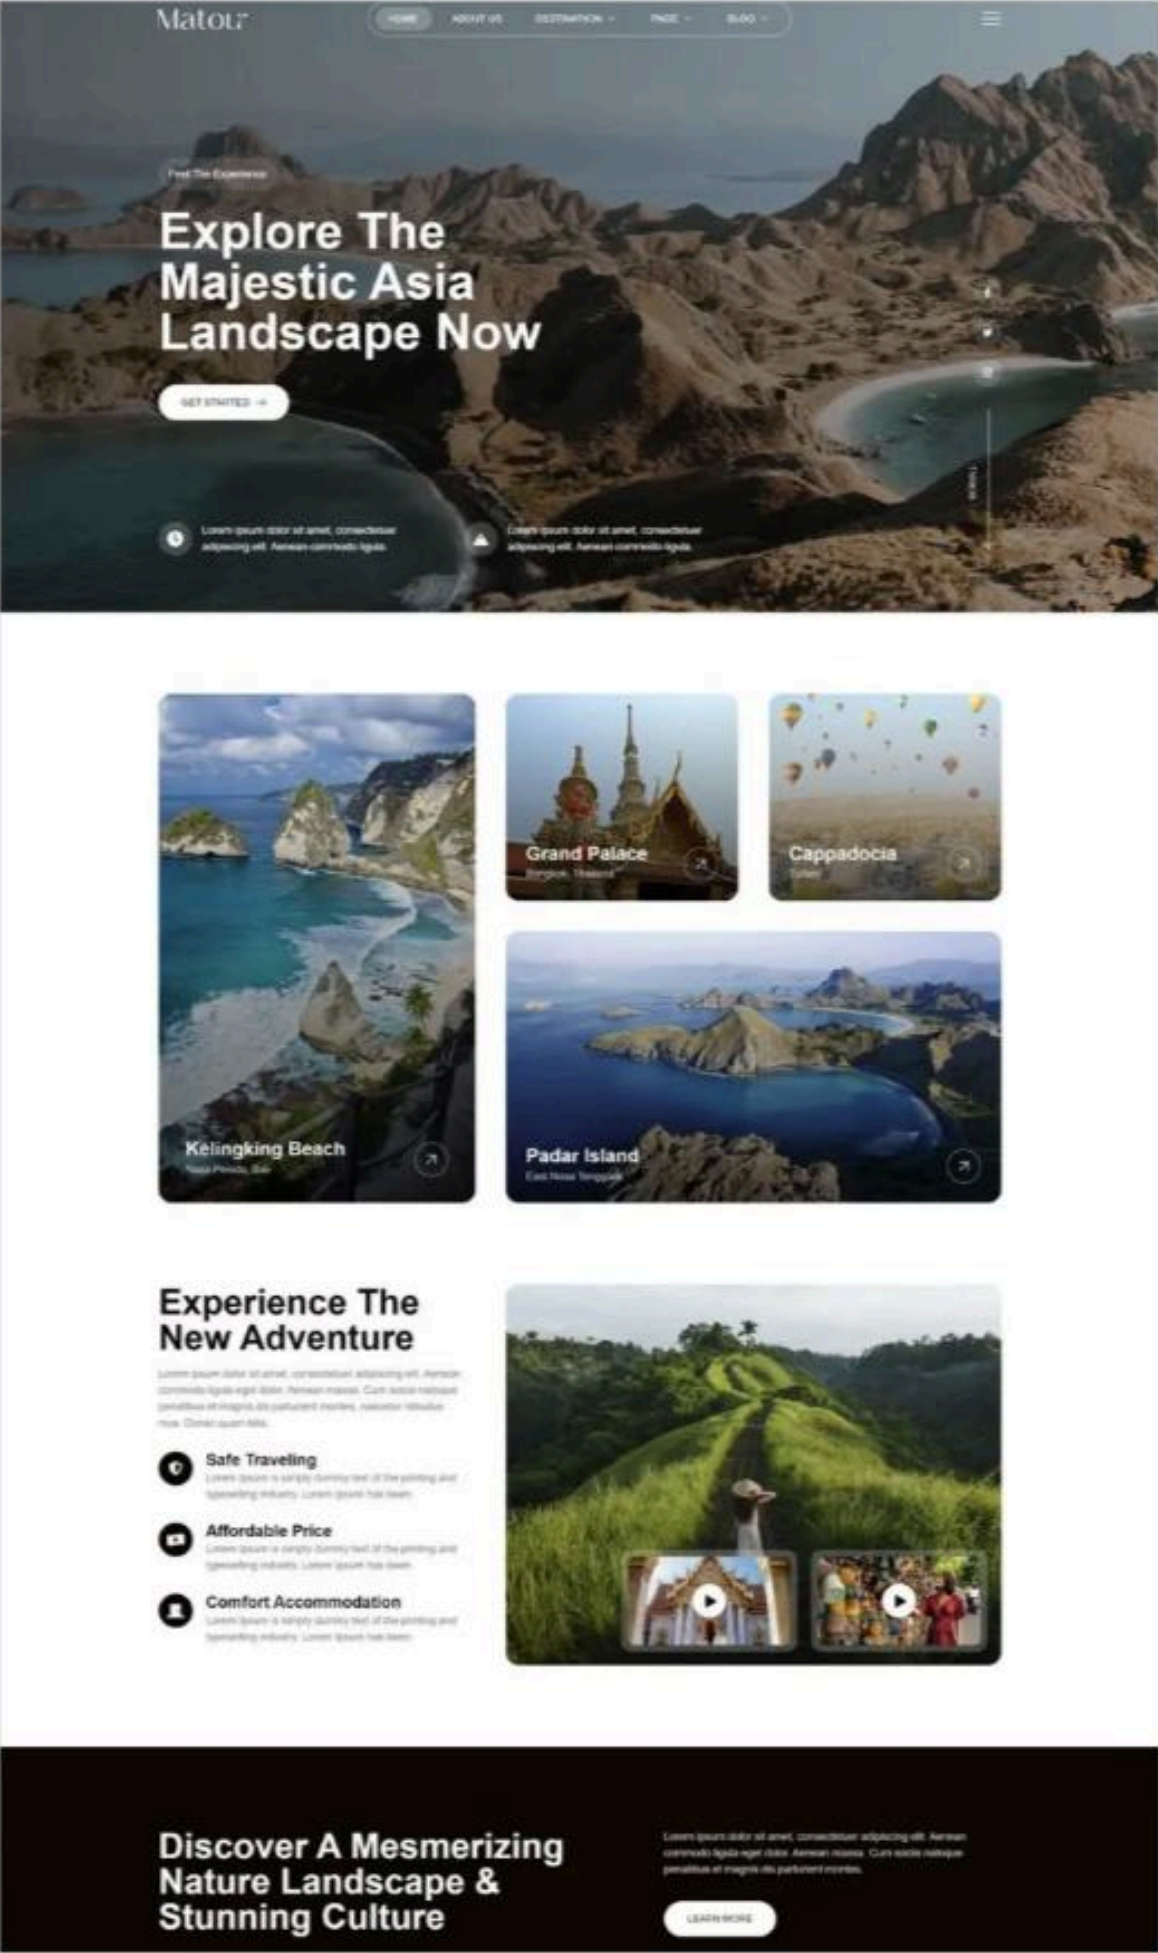

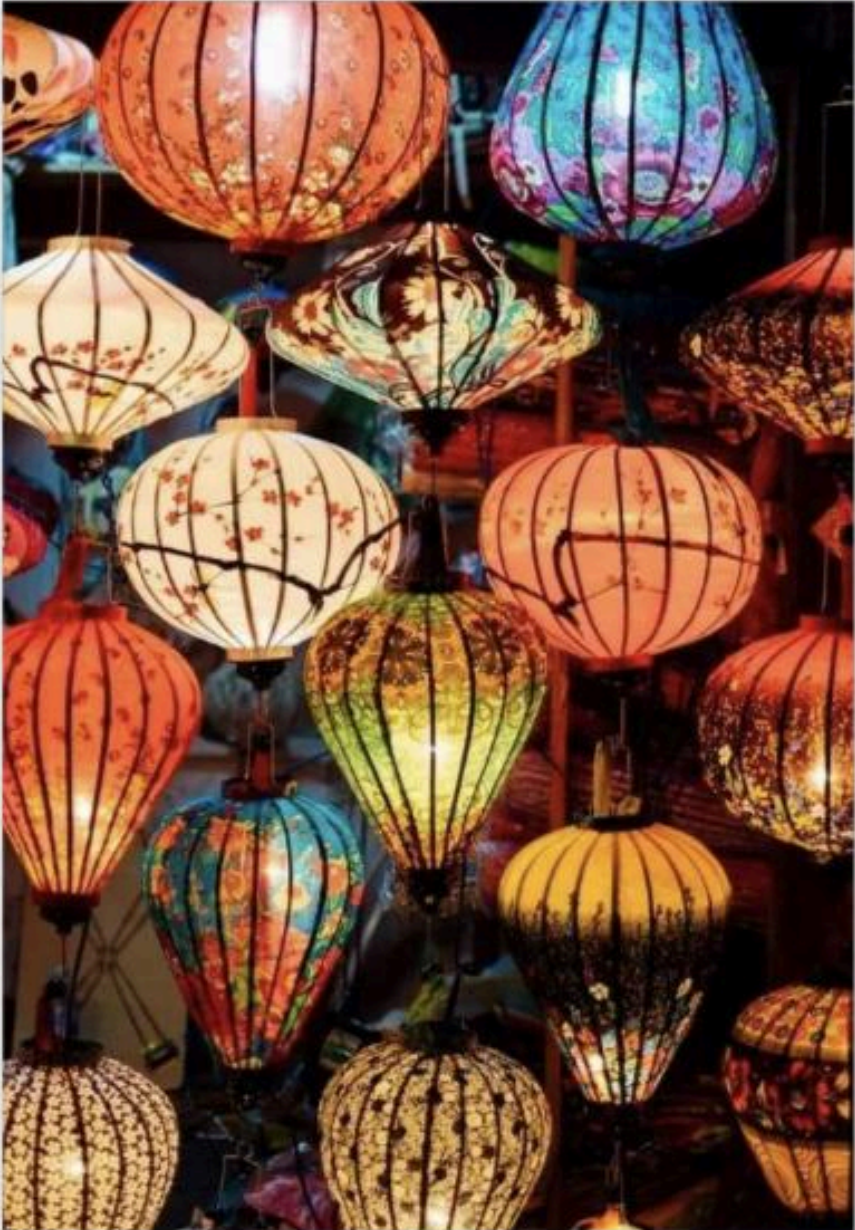

Negatives

For Asian individuals that want education surrounding their culture and would like information about immigration and citizenship, I want to reformat the app to be able to highlight important information on concise and clean pages while also highlighting the diverse nature of the site itself with having 47 different cultures belonging to its community

Sitemap

MoodBoard

Indivisible Bold
IBM Plex Sans

#7EA085

#192223

#7E1419

#CE1E31

#EEA121

#FEFAEE

Preserve the cultures presented on the site while maintaining a cohesive and understandable brand system and UI setup

Designs

Sketches

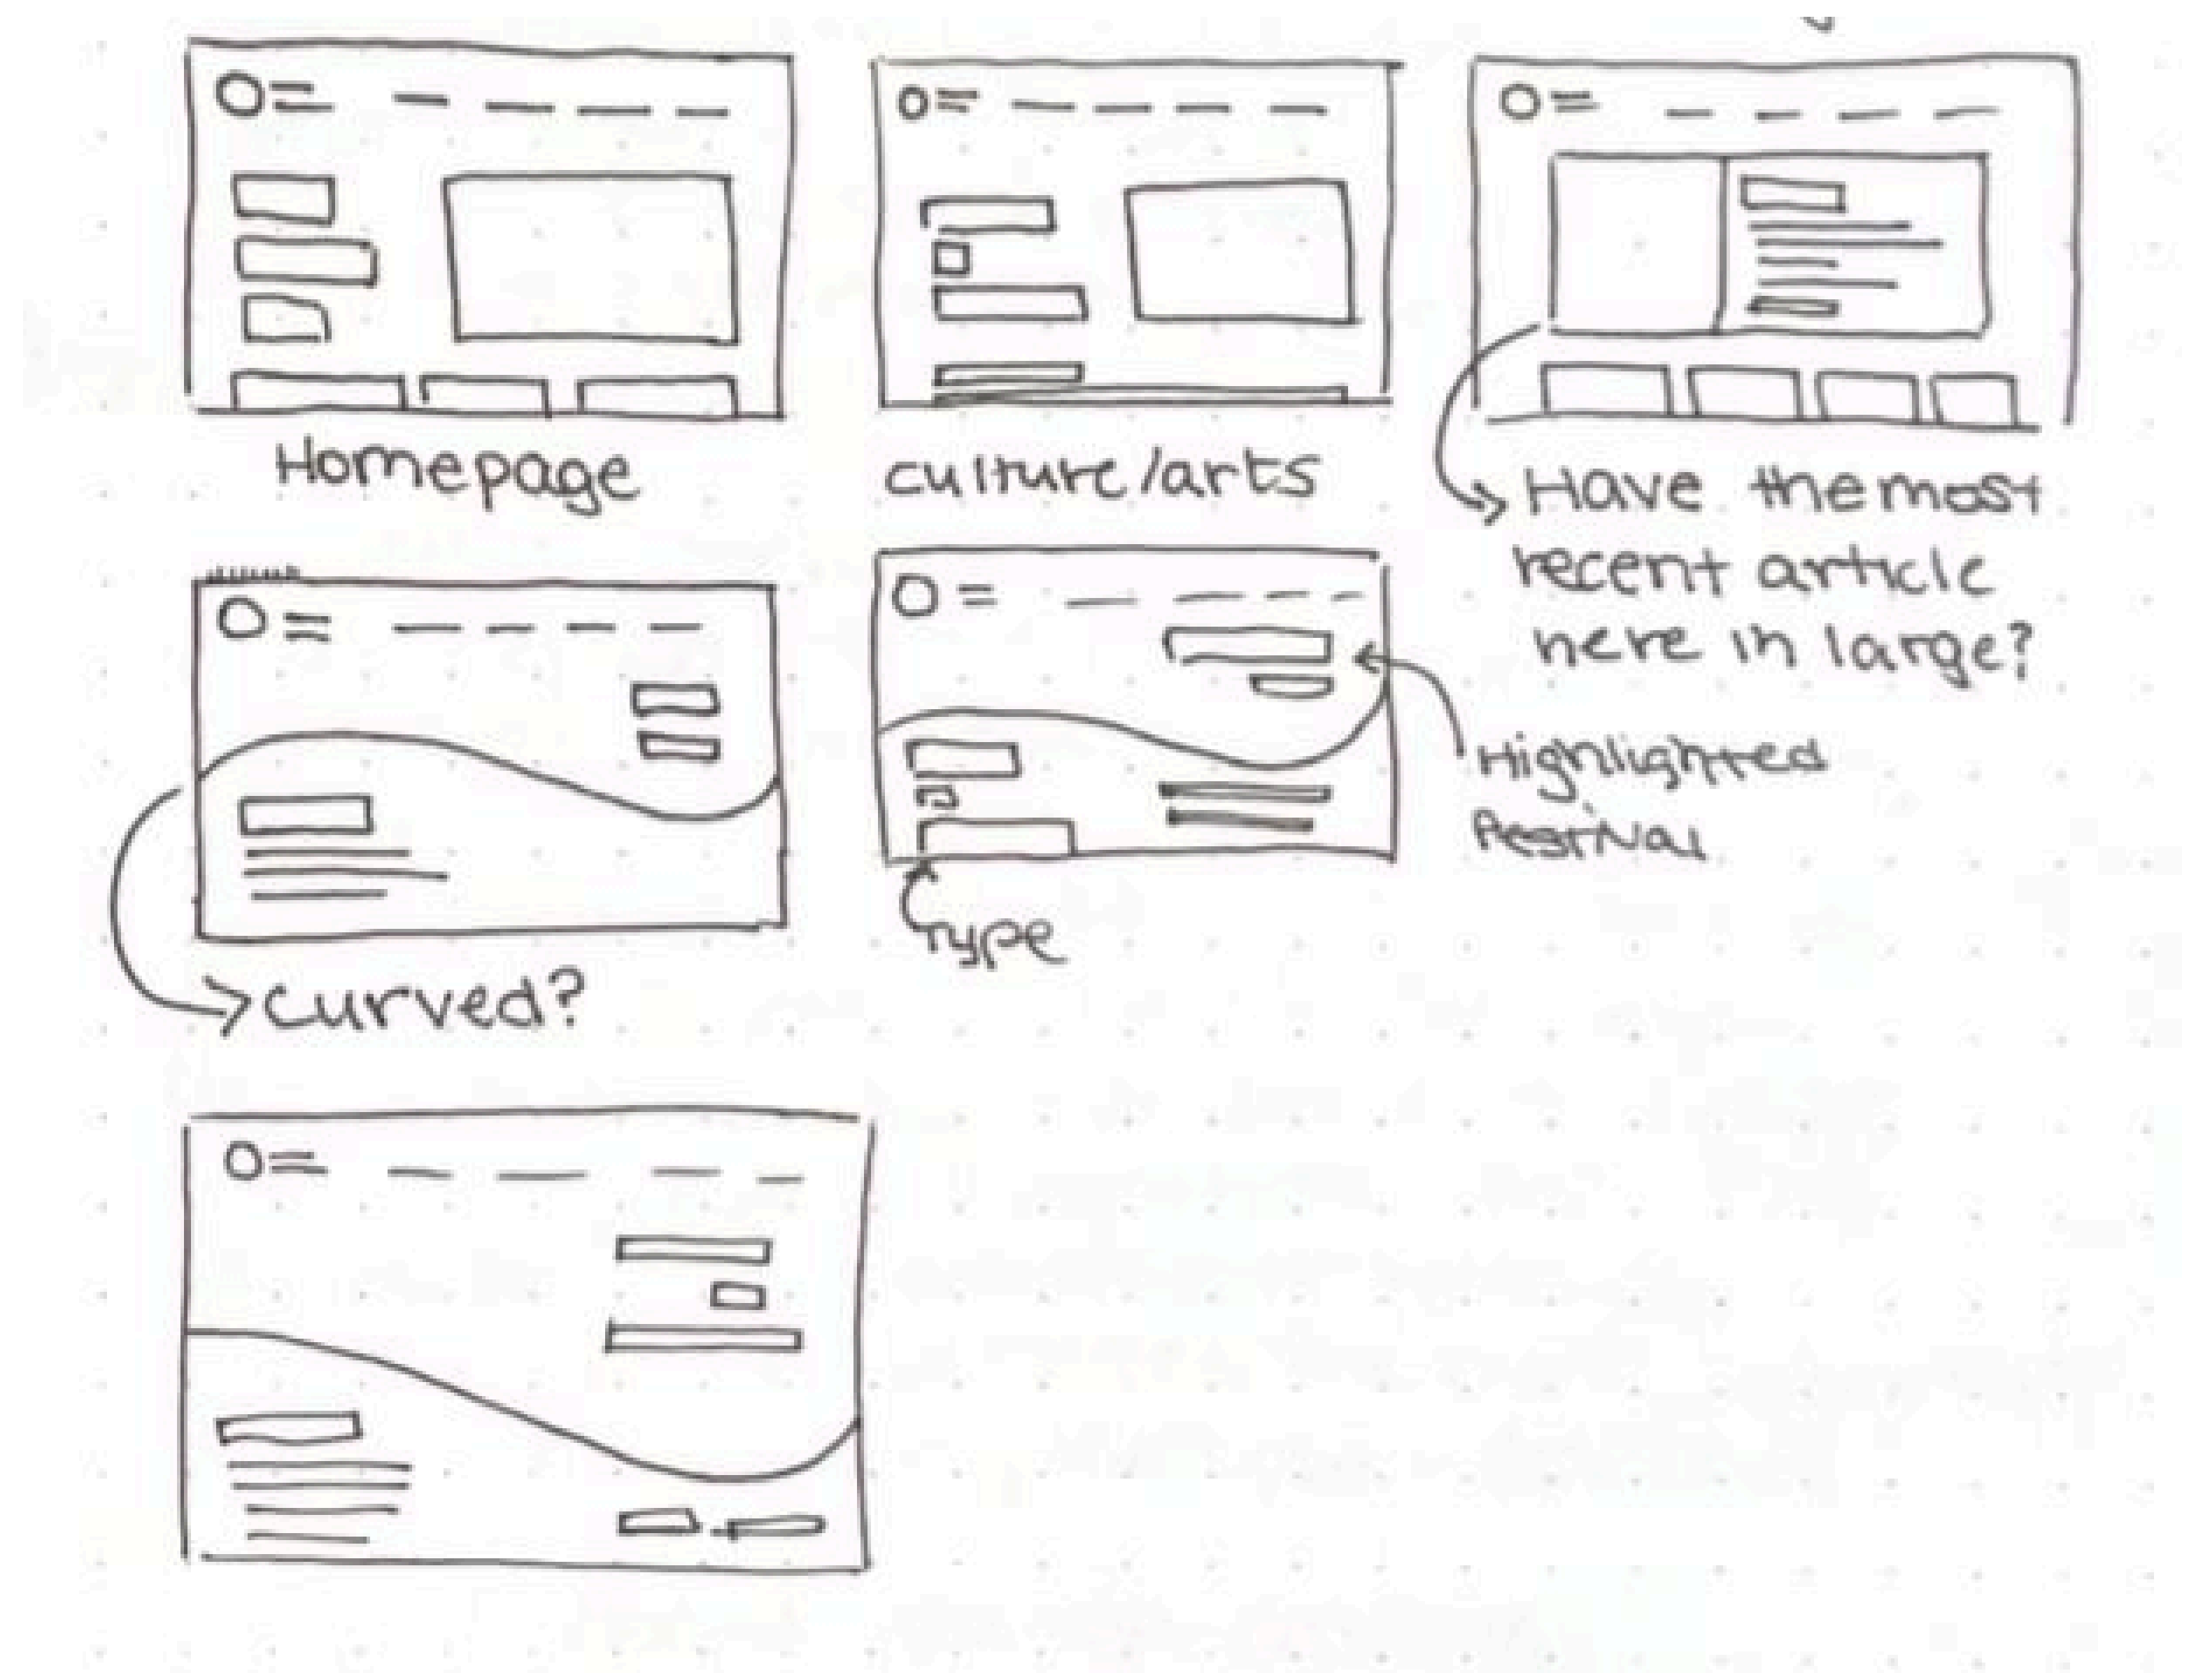

Compositions

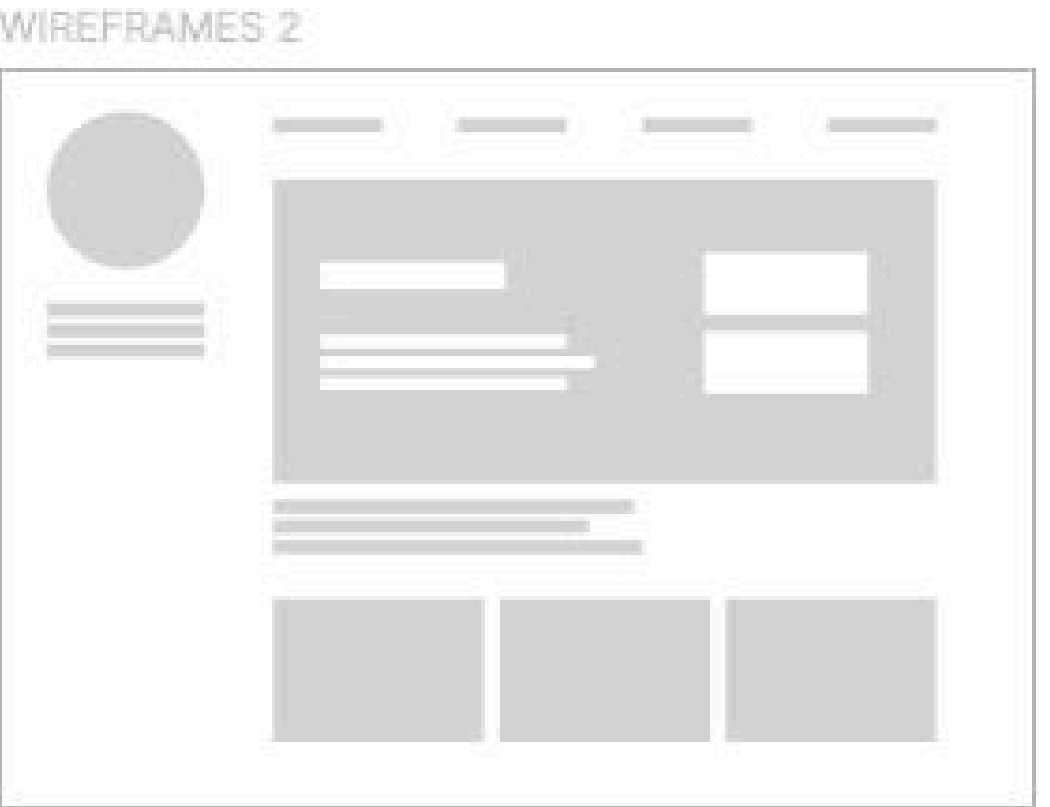

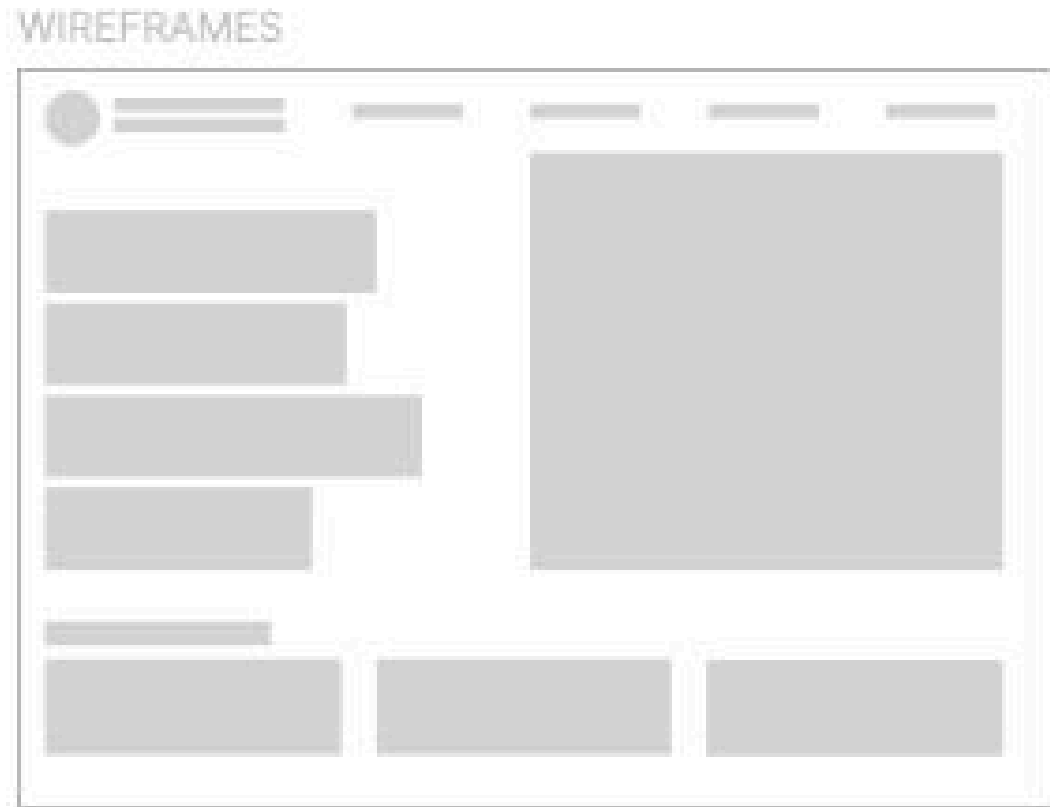

Sketches

Positives

Negatives

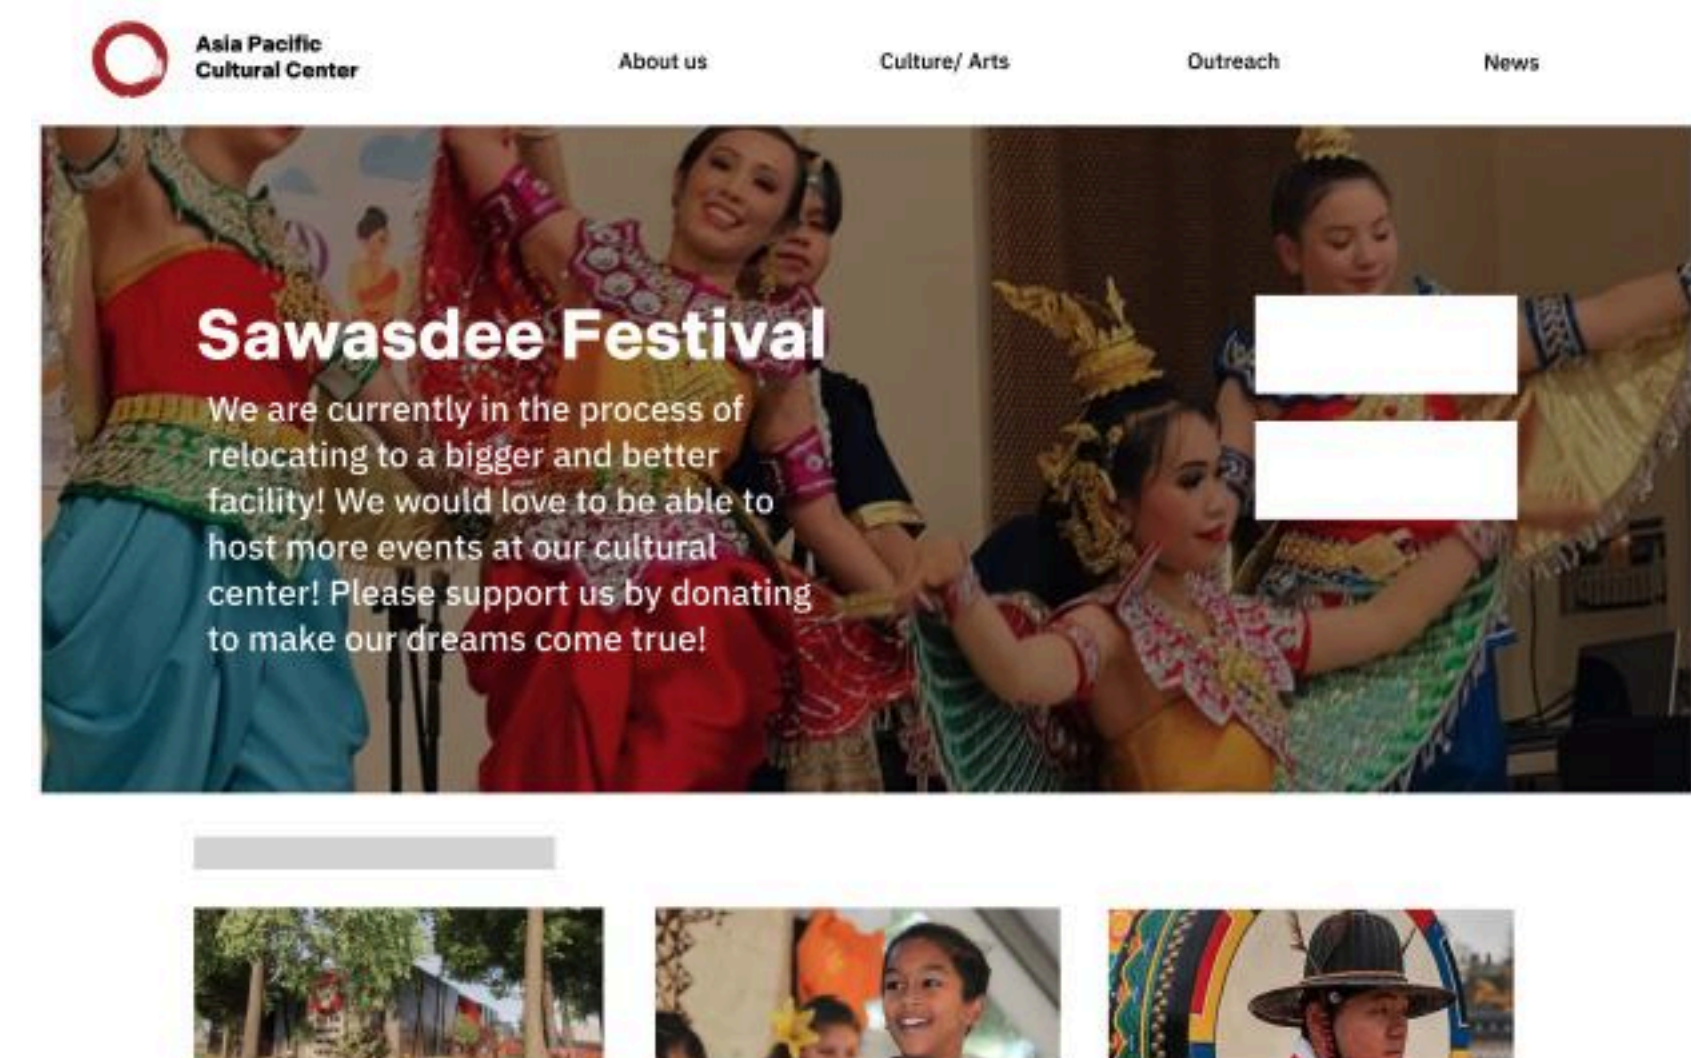

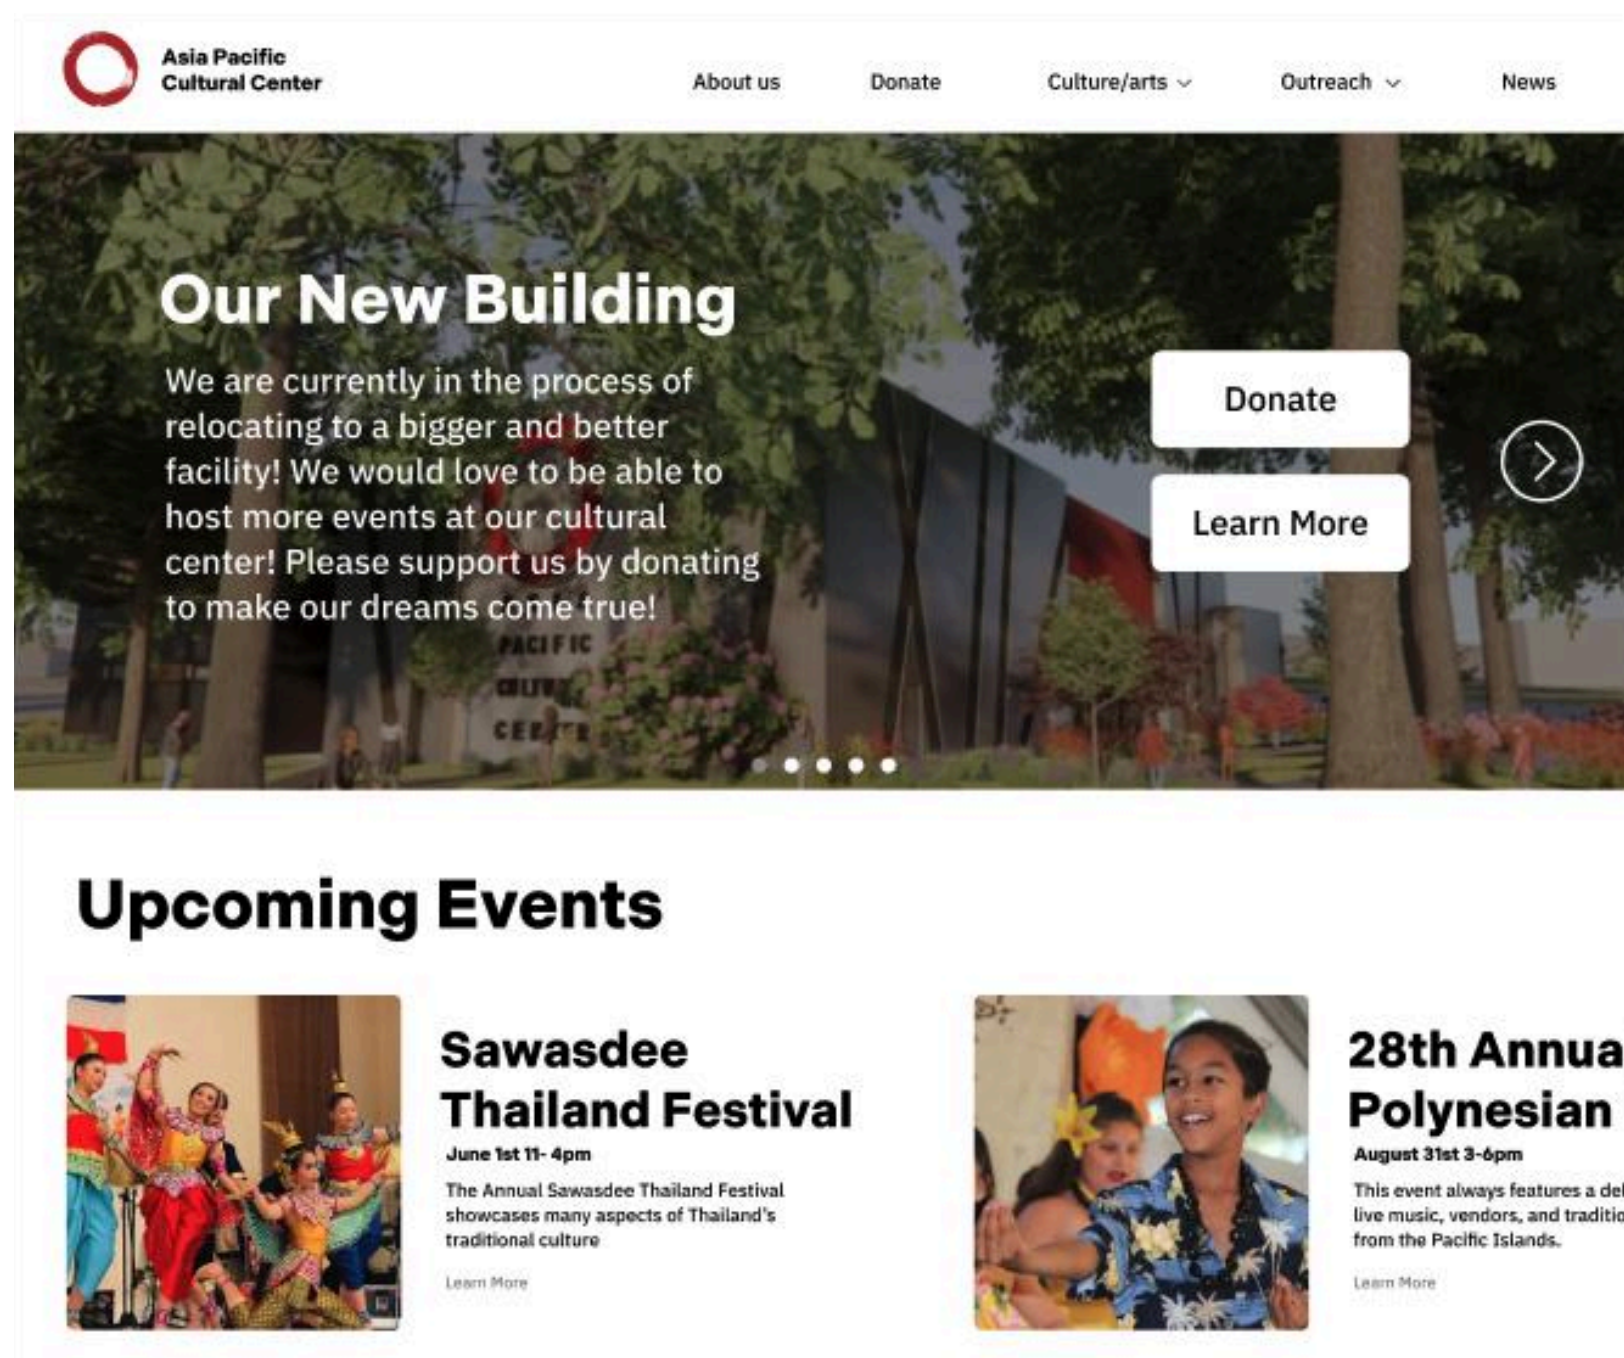

WireFrames

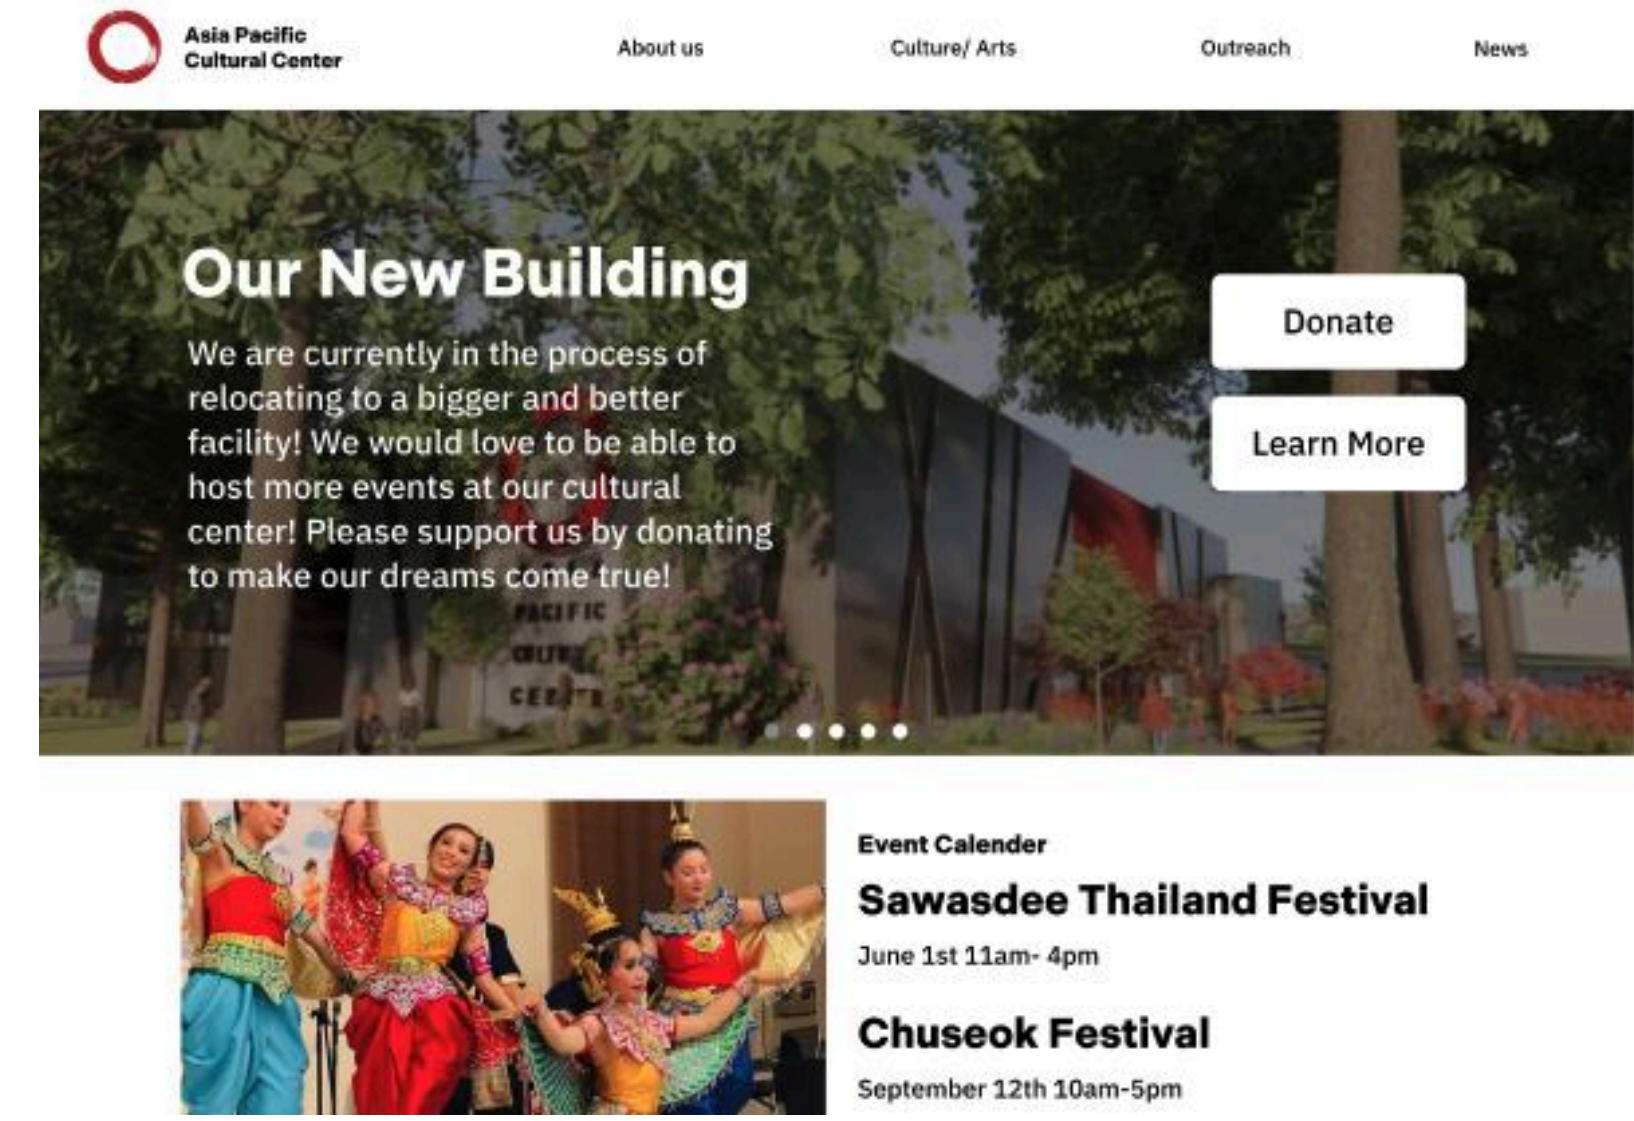

Positives

Negatives

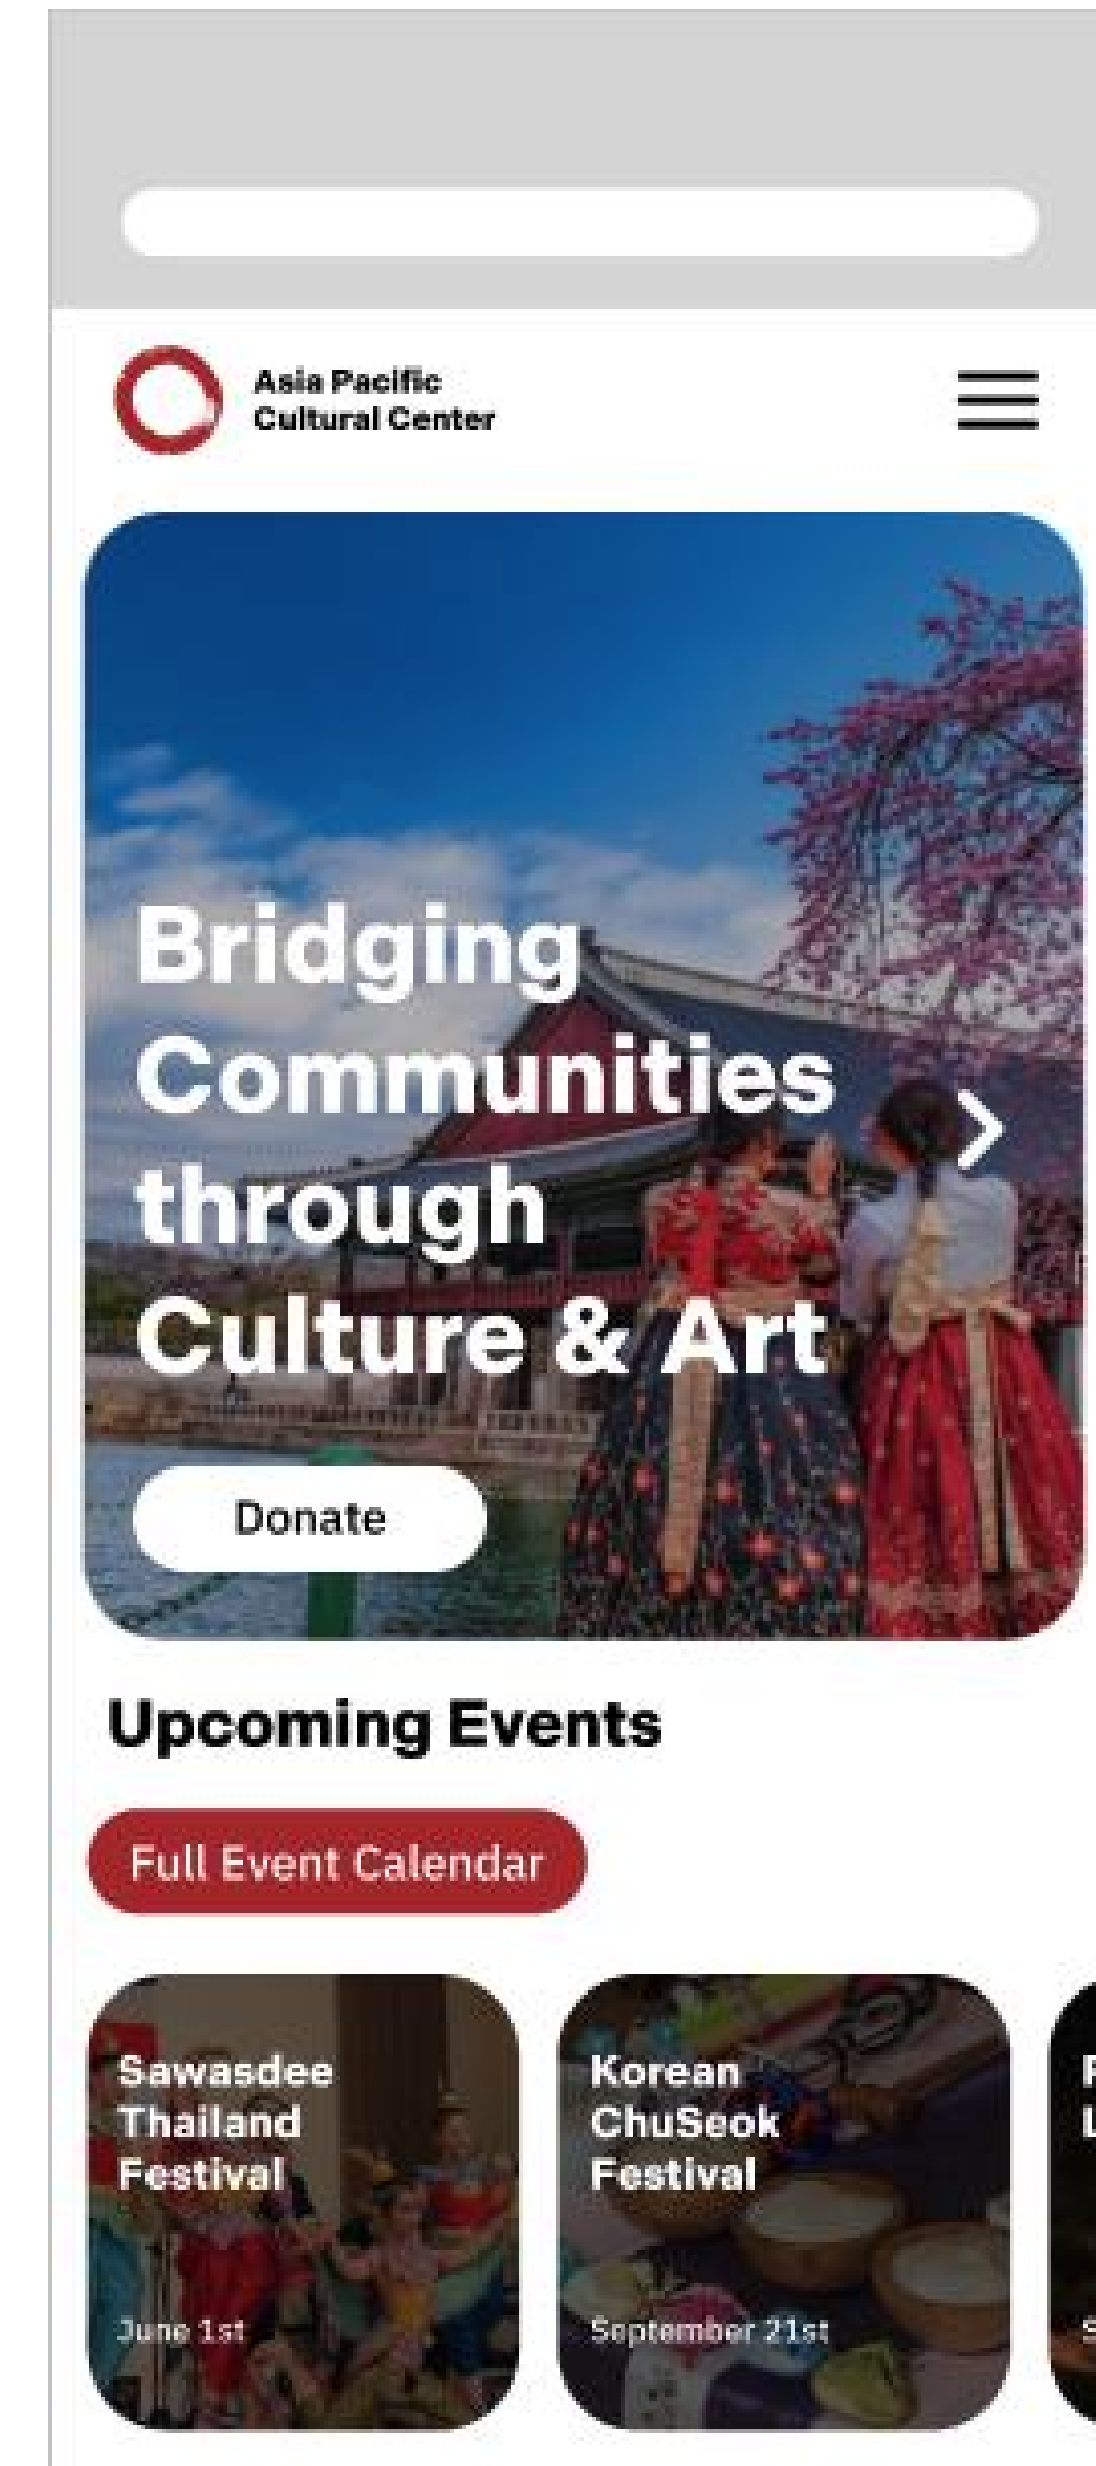

Web Initial Screens

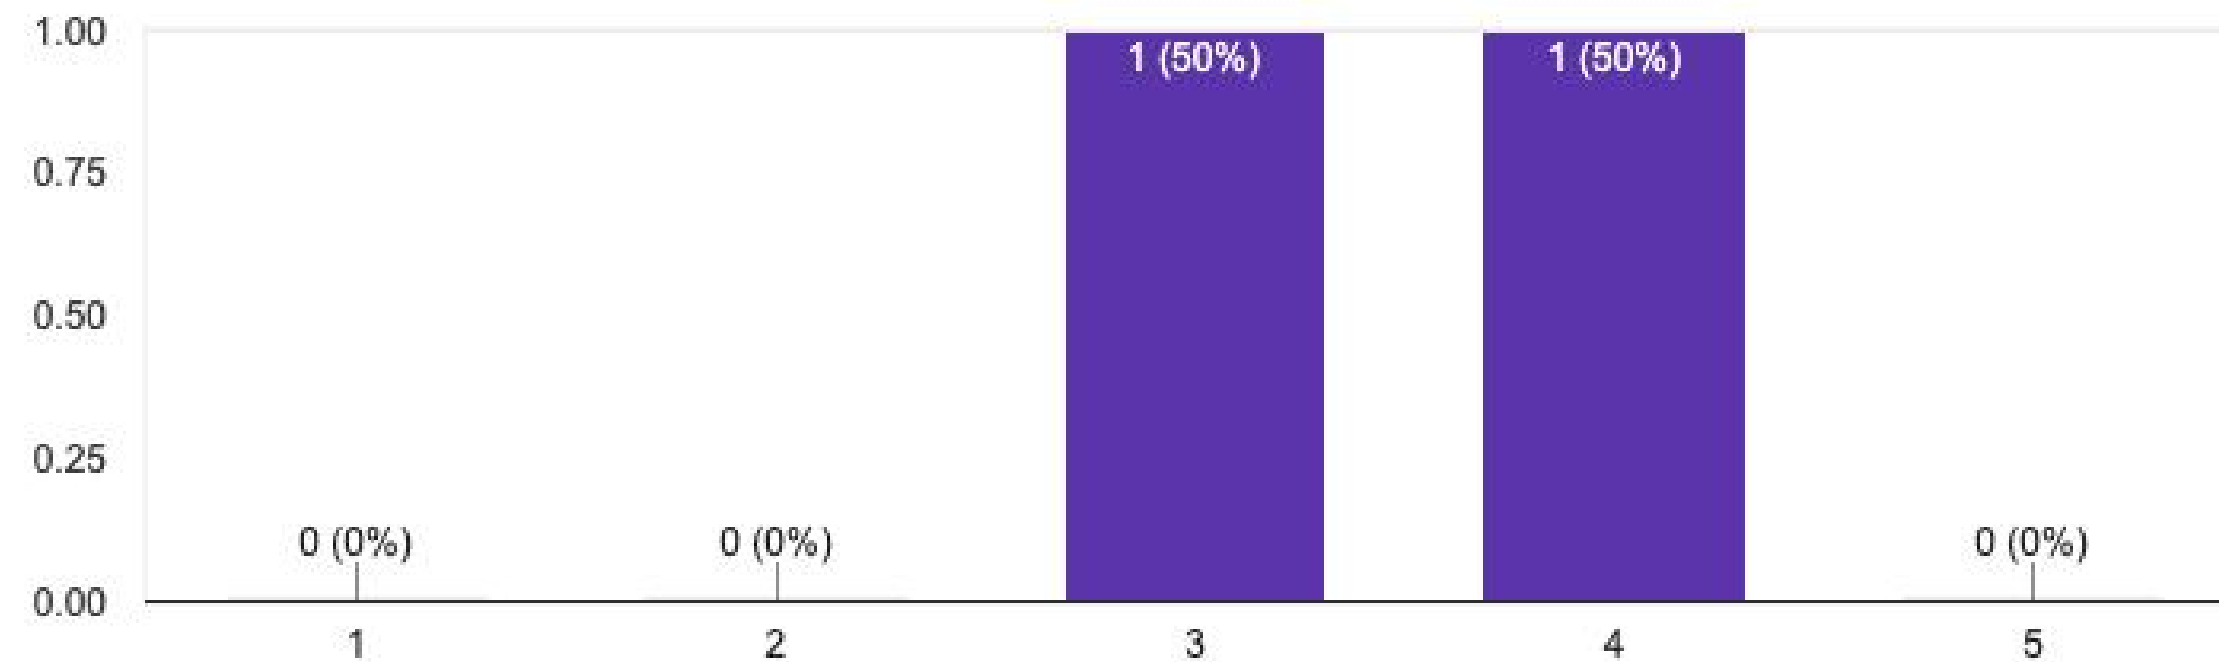

Other Iterations

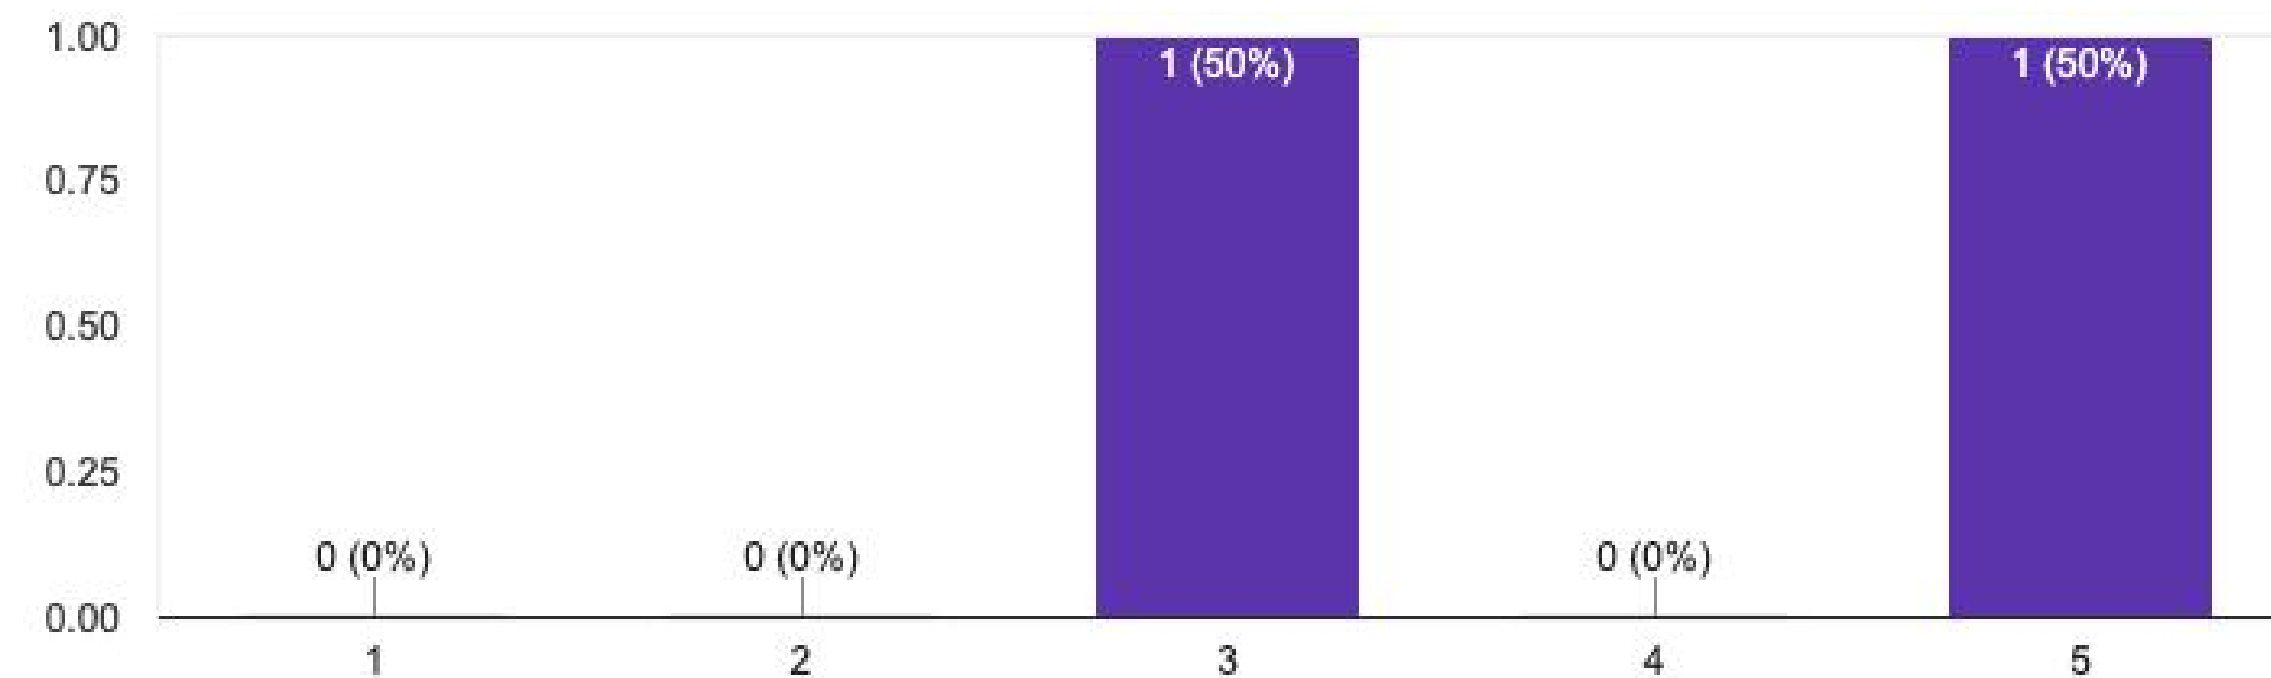

Mobile Initial Screens

Accomplishment of Tasks

Level of Redesign

Usability Testing

Successes

Problems

The Main thing that I noticed during my usability testing was that the tasks weren't super easy to accomplish and some of the features weren't easy to find at all. I also noticed that there were some features that weren't that different from the original designs

Patterns: All of the people that tested my prototype said roughly the same things about navigation, they got lost at the exact same time

Usability Testing

Successes

Problems

Refinements:

I changed the size of all the type and rearranged some of the things on the home page to make more sense. I also created a pop up so that the email newsletter sign up would be impossible to miss, because that was something that people couldn't locate in my testing.

Solution

Community

Cultures

My solution is to redesign the website to incorporate better organization, navigation and add a consistent design system

Final Screens

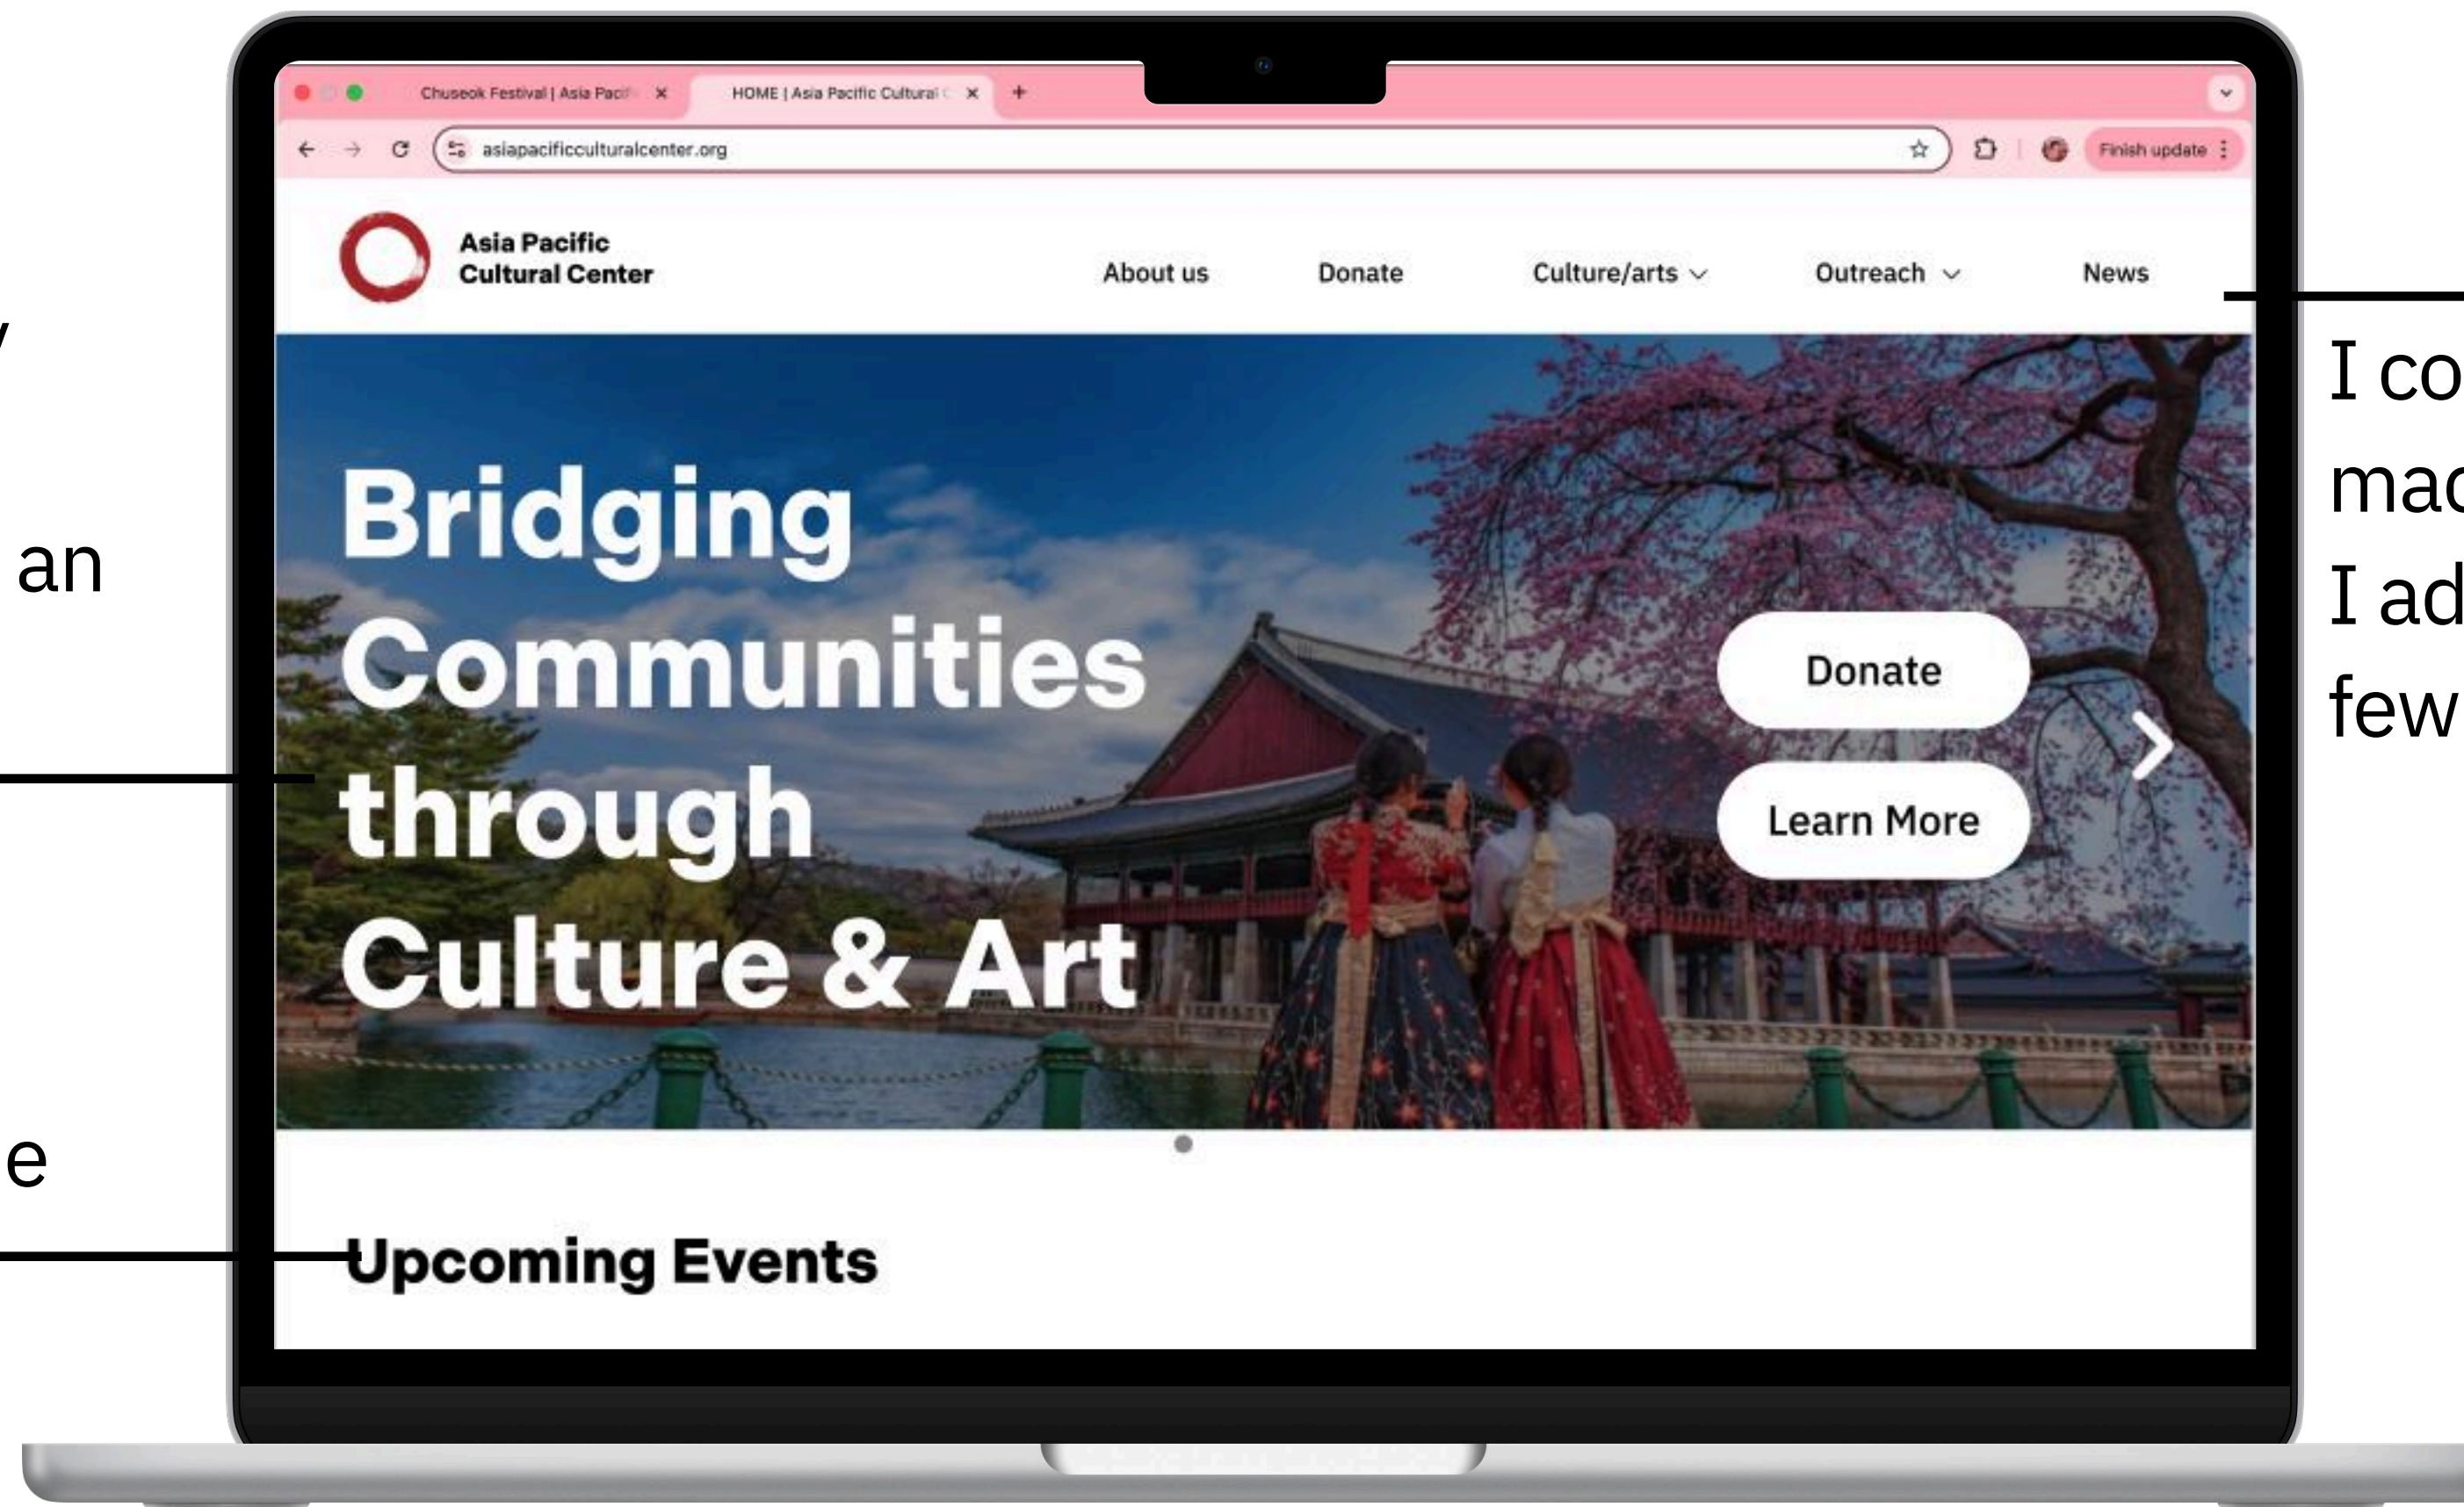

Sketches

Compositions

Home Screen

I reworded the way they presented the mission statement and provided an easy way to donate

Moved the events to the top of the page

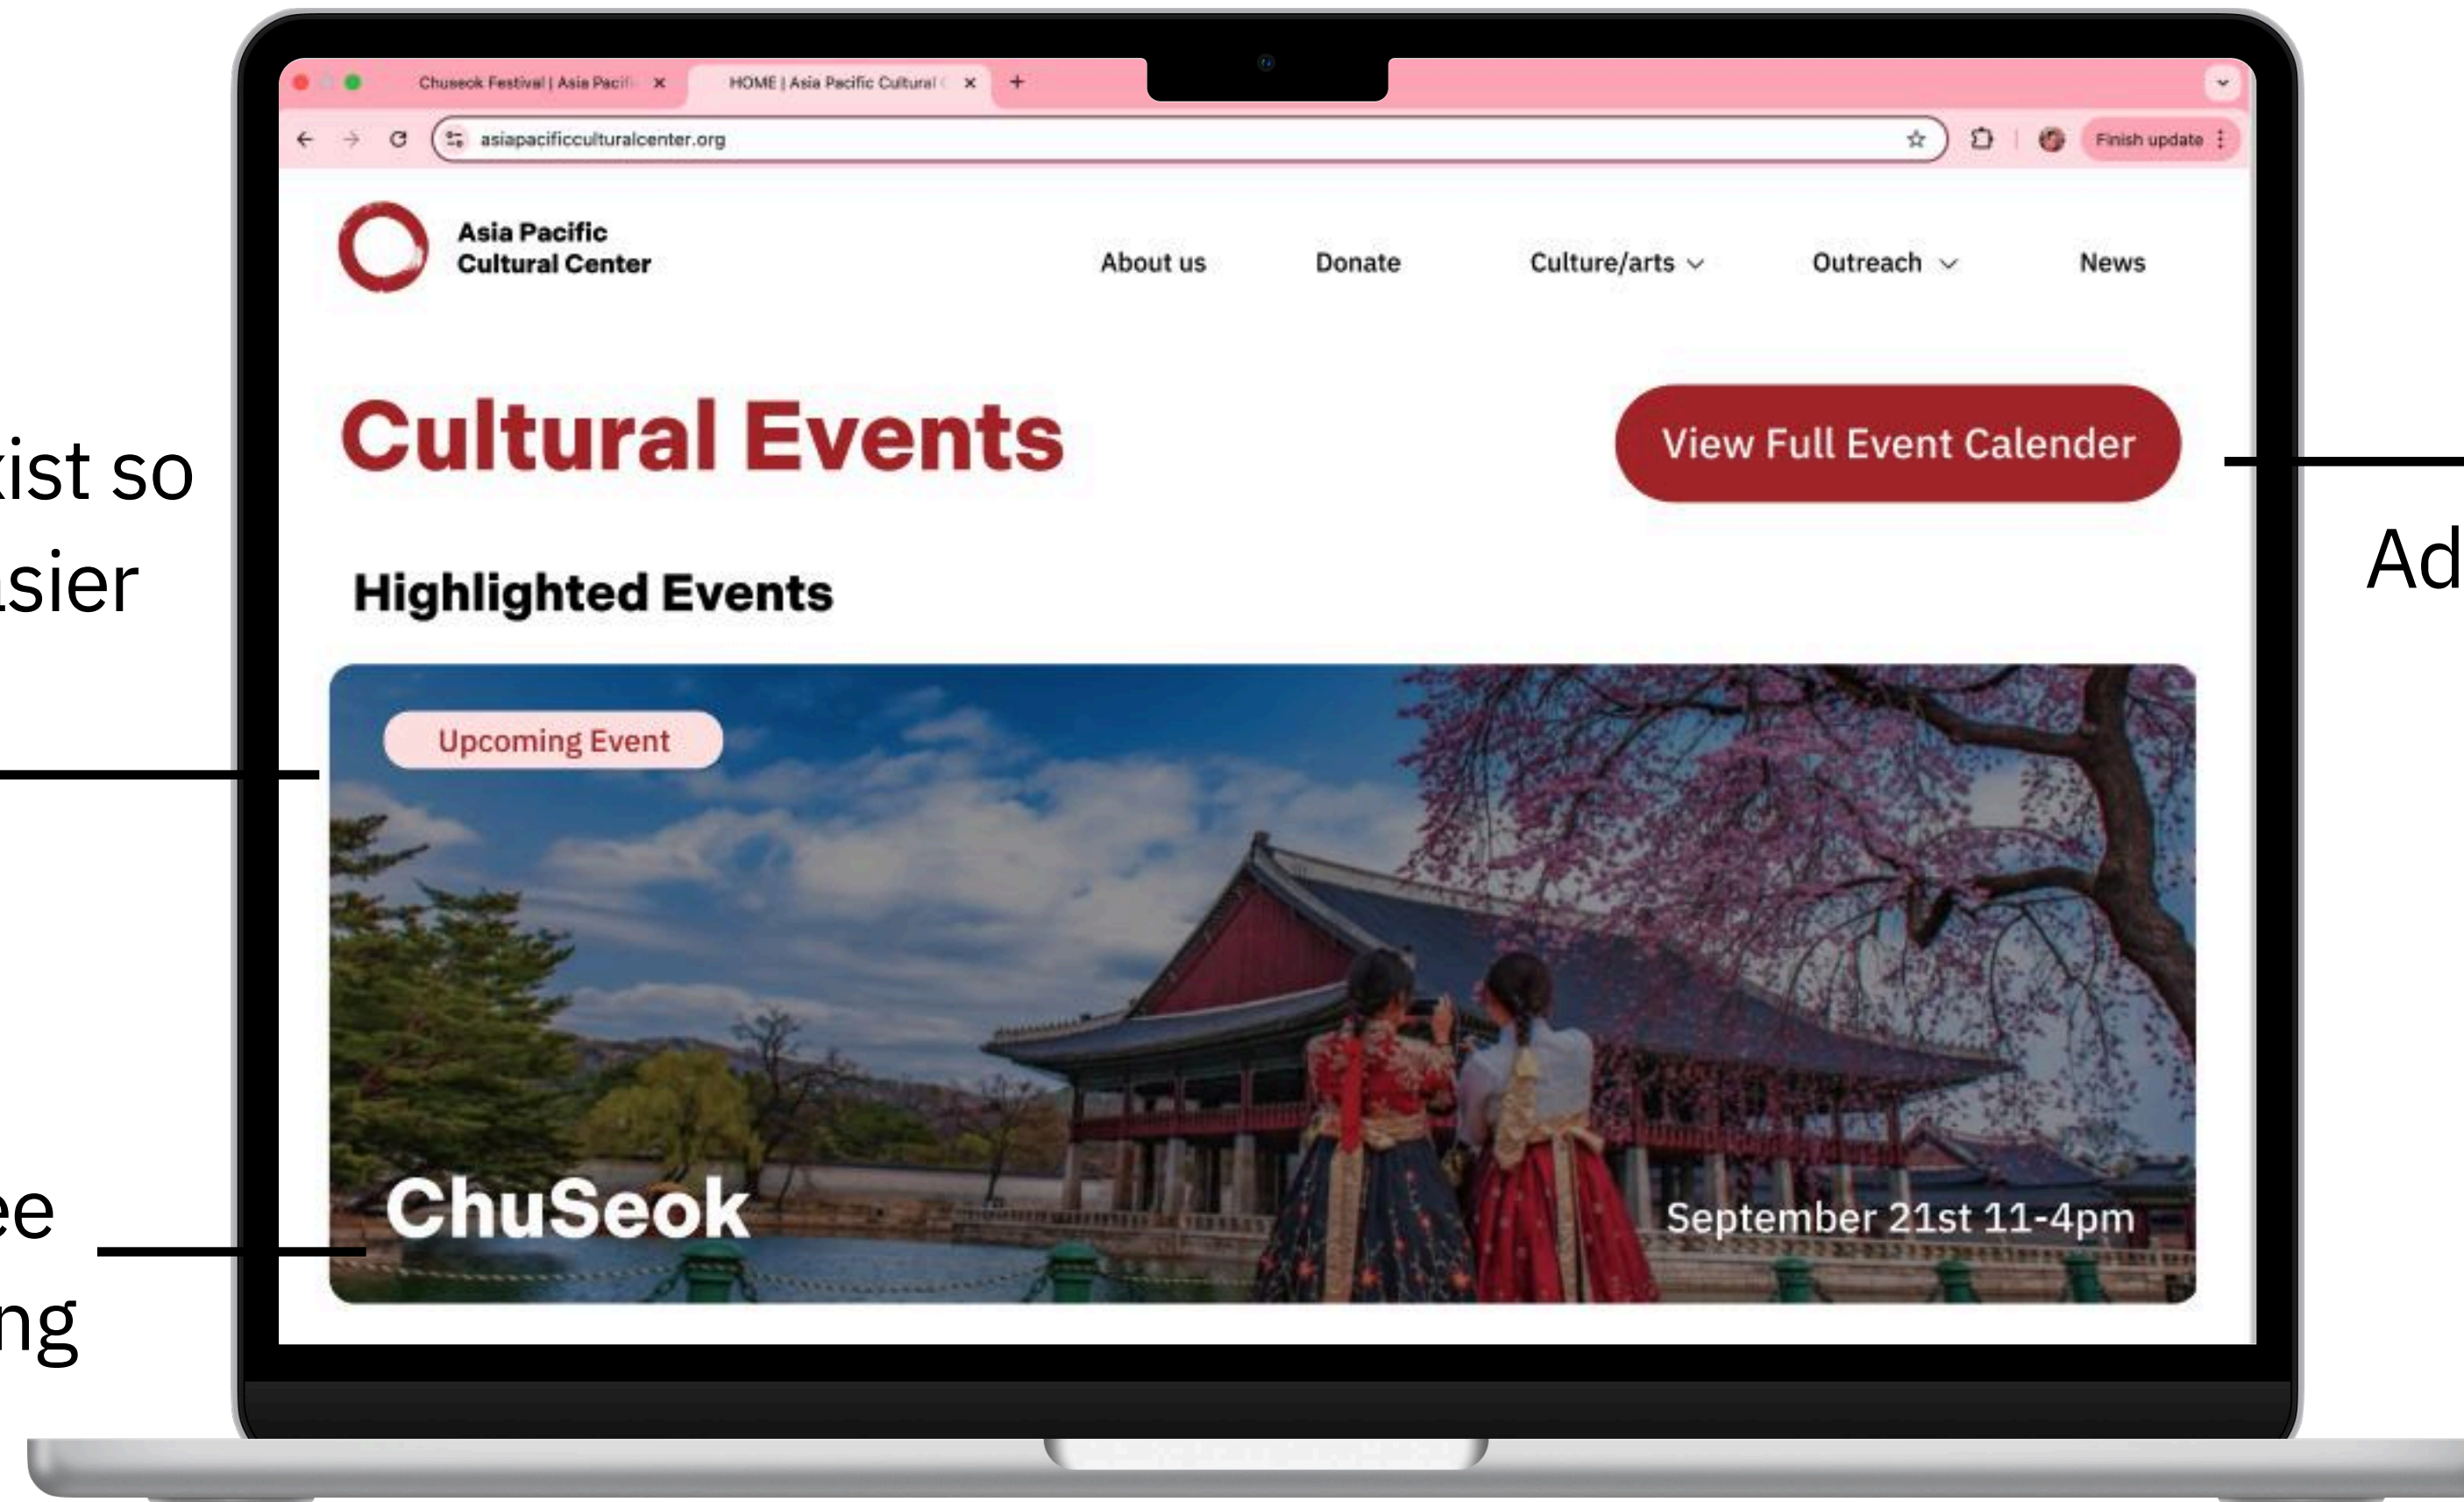

I condensed the top bar and made it easier to understand. I added drop downs to only a few of them

Cultural Events Screen

The entire Page didn't exist so I made one to make it easier to access events

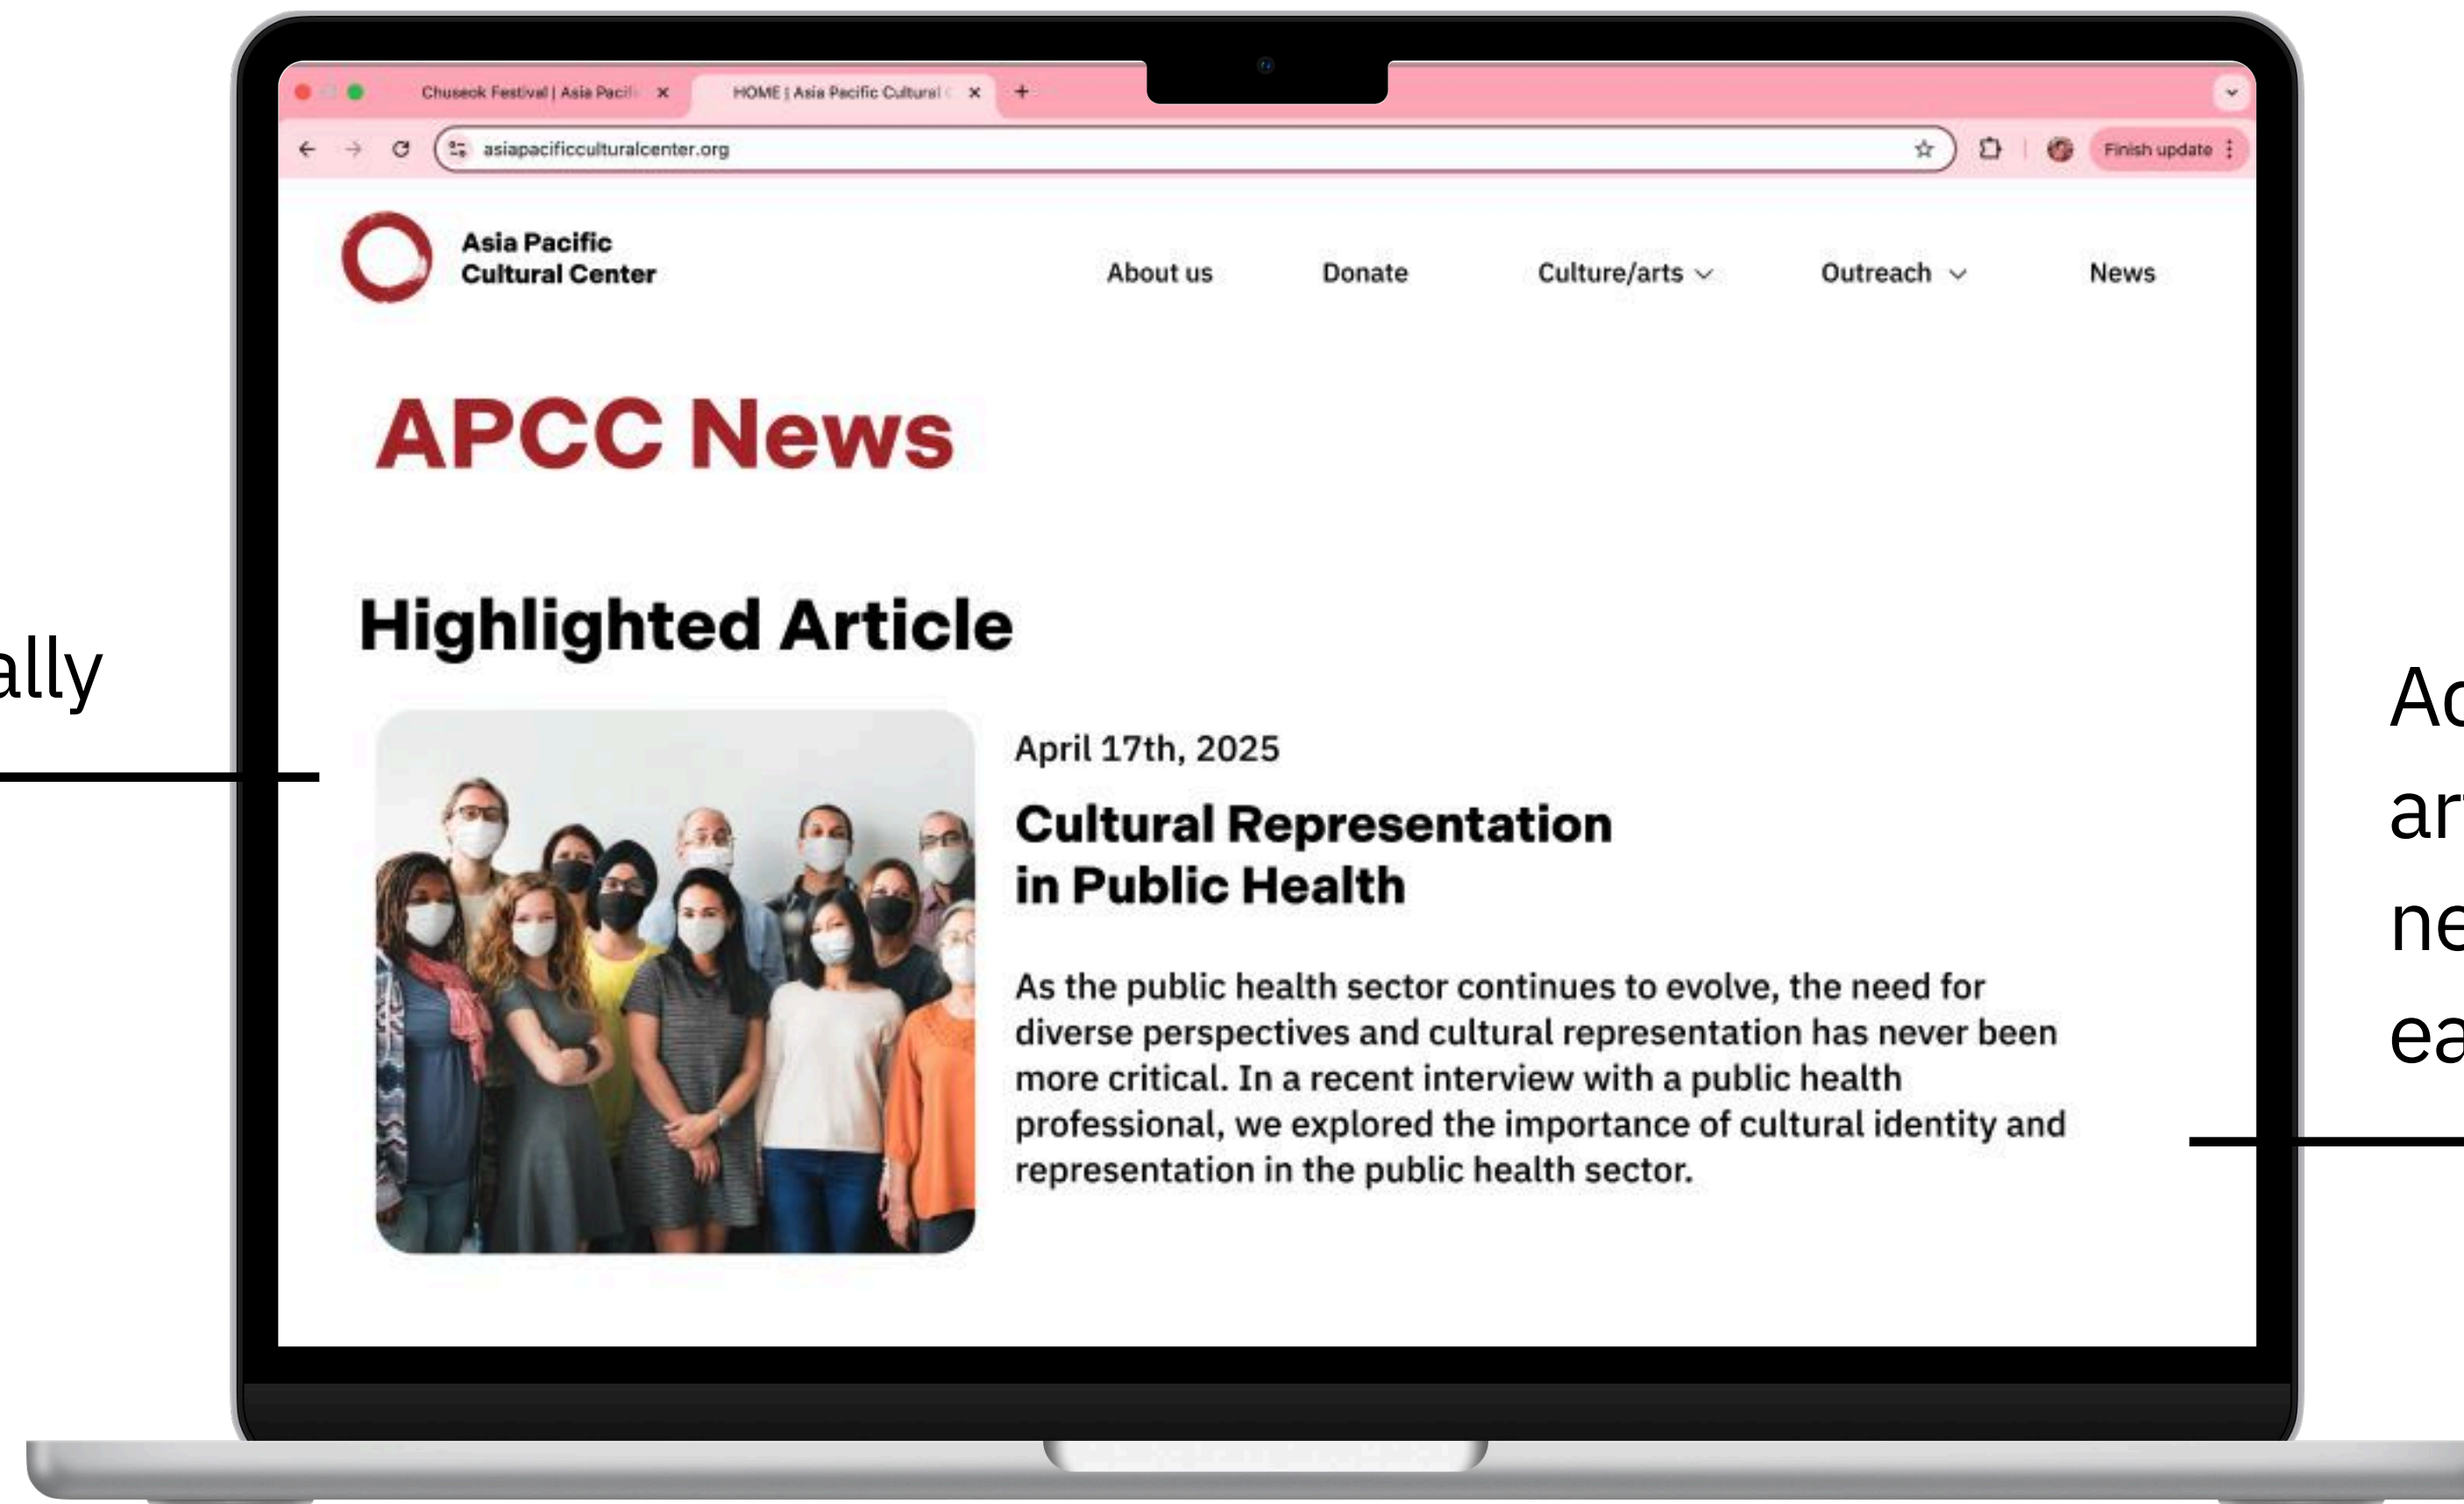

Added a highlighted event so people can see which event is upcoming

Added a link to a full calendar

News Screen

Reformatted the entire page to fit a more minimalistic style and made the images a lot bigger than they originally were Added a highlighted article so that the newest article can be easily located

Mobile Screens

Sketches

Compositions

Home Screen

Added a panel for the mission

Calendar events

Hamburger menu to replace the top of the web version

Event highlights click to the actual page

Cultural Events

Clickable highlight

Each event has the date so people can keep track of events

full calendar is still present

All events are visible so users can scroll to find out about events

News Screen

Logo clicks back to the home screen

Highlighted article matches the desktop version

News article
click to the actual
page

WEB Prototype

Mobile Prototype

Challenges

Voice

competition

One of the main challenges for me was how hard it was to fit so much information into one website. This Website has a lot of information and it's not organized very well, so reorganizing everything was very difficult. I also had trouble keeping everything consistent between the web and the mobile version

Reflection

Voice

competition

I learned how to condense information and make a consistent navigation bar. I also learned a lot about non-profits and how their websites differentiate from regular corporate websites. I also learned how to use some Figma features like variables and horizontal scrolls.

Thank You.

DSGN 372

Case Study